Taft Seeks New Survey On U. S. Military Needs

Senator Makes Request As Ike Says Nation Cannot Slow Its Combat Strength Buildup Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) called today for a fresh survey of U. S. military needs in the light of President Eisenhower's assertion that the nation can't slow its combat strength buildup.

The Ohioan, the Senate's Republican leader, said he believes little can be done immediately toward altering the military program outlined by former President Truman in his $46 billion budget request.

But Taft said he thinks a complete resurvey by the new administration of overall armed services requirements is in order. He indicated this should go far beyond present efforts to reorganize the Truman program.

"I think we have got to look at the whole picture and see what needs to be done," he observed.

Rep. Short (R-Mo) said tighter

management could cut billions of dollars from defense costs — the only way, he said, to reduce expenditures without impairing preparedness.

SHORT, CHAIRMAN of the House Armed Services Committee, said the solution is to "squeeze the water" out of defense spending by tighter supervision and better long-range planning.

"The measure of strength," he said, "is not how many billions of dollars you spend but how many armed and trained divisions you have ready."

Short said "vast savings" could be made by better management of military procurement and by standardizing the items commonly used by all services.

Taft said he believes overhead or administrative economies suggested by Eisenhower at a White House news conference Thursday can account for some sizeable savings. The President said the nation could not reduce its combat strength, and that he was trying to get adequate defense for fewer dollars.

Some other legislators doubted that enough administrative reductions will be found to balance a budget Truman predicted would take the country nearly $10 billion further into the red in the year beginning July 1.

Sen. Young (R-ND), an Appropriations Committee member, said he doubts that even severe trimming in administrative costs will yield enough economy.

"Until we get more military assistance from other free nations, we're stuck with a high level of expenditures," he said.

SEN. GORE (D-Tenn) guessed that no more than $1 billion might be cut off military overhead. But he added that no president in his lifetime "has been better qualified to not the frill and fancy from the military than Eisenhower."

Gore said he interpreted Eisenhower's statements as endorsing Truman.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said he would like to see administrative costs reduced but he said Eisenhower administration hasn't shown any signs yet of "knowing where to cut."

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo) said he agrees with Eisenhower that this country must build toward sufficient military strength. But he said he thinks "there can be sufficient reduction in military overhead to balance the budget."

Short cited, as one possible saving, a sharp curtailment of military travel—what he termed "needless shuttling of men from one end of the country to the other."

He noted that about $21 billion were earmarked in Truman's defense budget for military personnel and operation and maintenance, and said: "These and other items represent fixed costs which cannot be reduced without reducing total strength."

Major procurement, for airplanes and tanks and similar weapons, totaled $17 billion in the Truman budget.

"If we reduce that," Short said, "we have to be careful not to cut the muscle."

Hunt Continuing For Crash Victims

ST. JOHN'S (AP)—Search continued today for the bodies of two missing victims of a U. S. bomber crash on Newfoundland's isolated east coast as rescue parties waited clearing weather to bring out the remains of 21 known dead.

Their burned-out plane was one of two American bombers downed Wednesday in Newfoundland with a possible toll of 33 lives.

Twenty-three of the men were aboard a huge 10-engine RB-36 that smashed into a hill. The other 10 were crewmen of a B-29 from which wreckage was found floating in St. George's Bay with no sign of survivors.

Hillsboro Water Main Snaps Again

HILLSBORO (AP)—Repairsmen raced today to fix a break in a 10-inch water main while two fire department pump trucks kept this city of 5,000 supplied with water.

The break, the second at the Hillsboro filtration plant in a month, occurred Thursday. The two fire trucks were keeping up some water pressure through 3,000 feet of hose. They are the only fire trucks available to fight fires.

Pilot Of Famed Island Queen Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Funeral services for Capt. Joseph W. McLaughlin, 76, pilot on the Island Queen which burned here in 1947, will be held Saturday.

McLaughlin, who was born in Lawrence County, O., died Wednesday. A steamboat captain the last 50 years, McLaughlin was one of the few remaining pilots who took the old time show boats up and down inland waterways. Nineteen persons died when the Island Queen burned. McLaughlin was not aboard at the time.

UN Secretary Vote Stalled

Mrs. Pandit Defeated In Thursday Ballot

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The race for a new United Nations secretary general was wide open again today with Russia's latest candidate, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India, beaten in her first bid before the Security Council.

In a gruelling five-hour secret session Thursday, the 11-nation council turned down Mrs. Pandit, sister of India's Prime Minister Nehru, and then called again on the Big Five permanent members to try to iron out the deadlock before their next meeting, scheduled for March 24.

In the drawn-out maneuvering over a successor for Trygve Lie, which promises to continue for some time, only Lebanon was said to have voted with Russia in the secret ballot on Mrs. Pandit. Eight nations, including the United States reportedly abstained and Nationalist China, it was indicated, cast the one vote against her.

India's petite, gray-haired chief delegate, still in the running despite Thursday's defeat, has insisted she would take the $40,000-a-year job only if everyone agrees on her. Her Indian colleagues indicate she would prefer not to be tagged as the candidate of either Russia or the West.

BESIDES MRS. Pandit, the five big powers—Britain, the United States, France, Russia and Nationalist China—have discussed at least 11 other possible candidates. Three—Canada's Lester B. Pearson, Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines and Polish Foreign Minister Stanislaw Skrzyszewski—were turned down last Friday.

The Big Five set no date for their next huddle before the next full council meeting Tuesday. That session comes two days before the scheduled return to the UN of Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky from major policy talks in Moscow with the new regime of Prime Minister Georgi M. Malenkov.

Knife And Noise Bills Approved

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Senate Thursday passed two measures and sent them to the House.

One would enable rural police to stifle noise-makers. The measure carried a $10-50 penalty for disturbing the "peace and quiet of the community." It applied to horns, bells, radios, loud speakers and the like. The Senate passed it 25-7.

The other provided maximum six-month imprisonment for selling, exhibiting or carrying "switch-blade" knives—those fitted with a spring to expose the blade. It passed unanimously.

5 Persons Killed In Chicago Fire

CHICAGO (AP)—Fire raced through a four-story hotel on Chicago's teeming near north side today killing five persons and sending nine persons to the hospital with injuries, burns or shock.

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan, who directed the fight against flames which forced scores to flee said: "This is arson." Only one of the dead was identified. The other dead were a man, two women and a baby.

No Dent Seen In Hard Facts Of Cold War

Soft Words Fly In U.S.-Red Tiff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia and the United States have been throwing soft words and peaceful assurances at each other for 10 days now without making any dent in the hard facts of the cold war.

And in that time Allied airplanes have been shot down in Germany and fired on in the North Pacific.

Is this some kind of grim and cynical game, or is it the first round of a prolonged propaganda and diplomatic sparring which may eventually lead to an easing of world tensions?

Diplomatic officials, though highly skeptical about Russian intentions, said today it is still too early to say what the long range behavior of the Soviet dictatorship may be under Georgi Malenkov, Joseph Stalin's successor as dictator.

At some point, but apparently not yet, these officials think careful diplomatic probing of Soviet intentions will be necessary to determine whether the Kremlin is really ready to do business on some real issues—such as ending the Korean War, for example.

EISENHOWER administration officials have been considering possible lines of Soviet behavior in the event Malenkov really wants to demonstrate that his peace talk is sincere. One idea administration leaders are reported to have come up with was that the Soviets might agree to some acceptable plan for resolving the prisoner of war issue which has been the most persistent point of deadlock in Korea truce talks.

One fact about the current round of peace statements which was also true of earlier word exchanges with the late Premier Stalin is this:

Neither of the leading powers of the two blocs into which the world is divided can afford to be backward in its expressions of devotion to peace.

Both normally hedge statements or put them in such general terms that they are not committed to any concrete action.

The great difference between statements from Moscow and from Washington, as Western leaders see it, is that there can be no doubt of the sincerity behind this government's declarations for peace. The conditions of a peaceful world would be manifestly beneficial to its standard of living, trade and general economy, although Soviet propaganda contends U. S. prosperity is due to a war economy.

Russia's totalitarian political system, on the other hand, is regarded here as making it profitable for the men in the Kremlin to prolong world uncertainty and tension to justify their own high handed methods.

Too Cold Yet For Mushrooms? Better Get Sack

Many folks have been eyeing the sunny skies and thawing thermometers this week with a growing appetite for mushrooms.

But the big question is: Are they up yet, or is it too early?

Carl Riffle of 717 Maplewood Ave. broke up the questioning Friday by displaying a handful of sponge mushrooms he and his wife, Elsie Jane, gathered Thursday evening.

The mushrooms were small—the largest just over an inch tall—but sufficiently tasty-looking to win him the honor of reporting the first mushrooms here. And to start the annual stampede of sack-carrying hunters toward woods and blue-grass pastures.

Riffle said he and his wife found "75 or 80" in a favorite patch of his. Naturally, location of the patch is a secret, but Riffle said it was in a woods rather than an open field.

"It'll be two or three weeks yet before they're up good," Riffle added. "The nights are too cold yet, and you aren't going to find too many this early."

Kentucky Basketball Coach Linked To Pro Gamblers In Lawsuit

AN AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHER makes a final record of all that remains of Nevada's "Doom Town," desolate desert area outside Las Vegas where 1,500 troops and scores of observers witnessed an atomic explosion from a vantage point only two miles from the blast scene. Still standing, but badly battered is Test House No. 2, located 7,500 feet from the Yucca Flat explosion center. Down the road at right, House No. 1 (arrow) is leveled to the ground.

Adolph Rupp Claimed In On 'Debasing' Deal

$573,257 Asked Of Top Cage Figure; Costello Named As Defendant

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—University of Kentucky basketball Coach Adolph Rupp and professional gamblers Ed Curd and Frank Costello today were named co-defendants in a federal court suit seeking triple damages of $573,257.99 for alleged gambling losses.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Lucille Chumbley Bradberry of Athens, Ga. She is the sister of George Chumbley, one of the alleged losers in gambling operations the suit said were conducted by "Curd and his co-conspirators."

The amount asked is three times the total of the losses alleged in the suit. How many others besides Chumbley figured in the claimed loss of $191,085.99 was not stipulated in the suit.

Curd, Rupp and Costello, the suit alleged, "concocted a fraudulent and debasing scheme of gambling in schools, colleges and university sports and athletics," and "seduced student leaders and players to betray their institutions and devotees of the institutions and college sports."

COSTELLO WAS a key figure during the Senate Crime Committee investigation. He is now in the federal correctional institution at Milan, Mich., serving 18 months for contempt of Congress. He also is under indictment for income tax evasion.

Curd, of Lexington, is now in Canada, according to federal authorities who have charged him with federal income tax evasion. He was indicted in Louisville earlier this month.

Tito Nearing End Of His British Visit

LONDON (AP)—Reported well-pleased with results of his defense talks with British leaders, Yugoslav President Tito faced a final round of social functions today as his five-day official visit here neared its end.

Sometime Saturday morning, the anti-Soviet Communist dictator will board a launch and travel down the Thames River to join the Yugoslav training ship Galeb for his return voyage home.

Although no details of Tito's program were disclosed for security reasons it was reported he would be a guest of Queen Elizabeth II at scenic Windsor Castle, just outside London, today.

The Yugoslav strong man also arranged to attend a dinner being given tonight for him at the House of Commons by the National Executive of the Labor party.

Tito outlined for Prime Minister Churchill and top British economic and military officials Thursday a Yugoslav plan to block Soviet aggression in the Eastern Mediterranean.

Although no exact details were disclosed, informed sources said the plan involved increased British economic aid to Yugoslavia.

A Yugoslav source said Tito will have achieved his main purpose if he has convinced British leaders that his country should receive a greater share of Britain's limited supply of arms and aid. Britain already has agreed to give the Balkan nation $12,600,000 in economic aid for the year ending in June.

Safety 'Queen' Runs Afoul Law

NEW YORK (AP)—Elaine Aiken has pleaded guilty to running through a stop sign, driving without a license and going the wrong way on a one-way street.

The 24-year-old blonde appeared in traffic court Thursday and paid a $25 fine. She was "Miss Safety of 1952" in a traffic safety parade here.

Hospital Stay For Mary Ruff Ends Saturday

Judge William D. Radcliff said Mary Agnes Ruff, accused husband-slayer who has been under treatment in Berger Hospital since Feb. 3, will be returned to Pickaway County jail by Saturday midnight.

Judge Radcliff said that was an agreement reached in a conference he had with attorneys for both the prosecution and defense.

He added the conference was held shortly after court-appointed physicians had filed a report on the condition of Mrs. Ruff.

Defense Attorney Joe Adkins, however, said he does not recall that any particular date was set for Mrs. Ruff's return to jail.

He said it was agreed she would be given a period of additional treatment in the hospital and that she would be returned to the jail before her trial, set for April 6.

"But I certainly don't remember any particular date being set for her to be back in jail," he added.

Dover Reporter Sold To Solon

DOVER (AP)—Sale of the Dover Daily Reporter to Congressman Oliver P. Bolton of Mentor was announced today by Arthur A. Hoop- ingarner, publisher.

The 35-year-old Republican representative, son of Congresswoman Frances Bolton, was elected to his first term in the House last November. He went into the newspaper business in December with the purchase of the Willoughby News-Herald in Lake County.

Rep. Bolton will become president and publisher of the Reporter. Hoopgarner, former publisher of The Circleville Herald, will continue with the paper as an adviser.

Letters Protesting Delay Here On Lake Project Being Prepared

A storm of letters from Pickaway County organizations protesting the delay in completing the Memorial Lake and Park project in Devil's Backbone has been started toward the Governor's office.

That was learned Thursday night during a meeting of the Pickaway County Farmers' and Sportsmen's Association in Memorial Hall.

Members and guests of the sports group were told many organizations of Circleville and the county already have started to barrage the governor's office with letters of protest.

Many more local organizations are expected to join in the attempt to bring the local project to focus in Ohio's capital.

MOST OF the letters of protest are expected to ask the Governor why the local project has been delayed for so long. Others, some already on their way, will be more demanding.

The sportsmen were told Thursday all service organizations here

Secret Orders Guiding Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Orders, secret until opened in mid-air, are funneling aircraft flying the North Atlantic into the U. S. under a new identification system inaugurated by the Air Force.

Each incoming plane, civil or military, must enter an assigned corridor 225 miles before it reaches the Nantucket, Mass., radio beacon. This applies to all aircraft planning to cross the U. S. coastline east and north of Montauk Point, N. Y.

5 Valedictorians Named By School

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Not to be outdone by a neighbor, Milne School will have five valedictorians in its June graduating class. Four girls and a boy were tied with solid "A" averages.

Draper High school in Rotterdam, a Schenectady suburb, has announced a three-way tie for the same honor.

and many fraternal and civic groups are planning missives. Granges throughout the county have been asked to join in the barrage, and local unions have volunteered their aid.

Protesting letters stem from the lack of action at the site of the Hargus Creek dam in the Backbone.

The dam was constructed several years ago and grubbing work was completed, ready for filling the lake.

Since then, however, the dam has been labelled "unsafe," "safe" and "safe, but needing more work." Chief cause of delay was an opinion the spillway constructed atop the huge, earth-filled dam was (1) inadequate to carry off floodwaters safely; (2) not thick enough to stand thawings and freezings.

Tests also have been completed by the state to determine whether the dam, built only about three years ago, had the right materials to withstand the backed-up water of Hargus Creek.

LETTERS representing the various clubs of the county are to be the opening gun in the campaign. The sportsmen promise individual letters later from each member if no action results.

During Thursday's meeting, Game Protector Ollie Niemeyer of Marion County and District Game Management Agent C. E. Webb of Circleville addressed the men. Niemeyer showed motion pictures he had taken in the field.

Also during the session, it was announced that Fireman Robert Wolf has accepted a post as director for the League of Ohio Sportsmen for two years.

Wolf is the first local representative to the League for many years.

President Darrell Hatfield also appointed a committee of Sterling Lamb, Dr. G. D. Phillips, Robert Rader and Ray P. Reid to revise the Association's constitution.

Next meeting of the group will be a hearing on game laws for the 1953 hunting season.

Probe Of Religion Idea Still Alive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Velde (R-Ill.) apparently is still toying with the idea of a search for Communists in religion but says it "must necessarily be delayed until some future date" although he said his mail strongly favors such a probe.

Velde, chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, told the House in a speech Thursday his committee staff is too busy now with other matters. Of 1,755 persons writing him about an investigation of the church field, Velde said, 1,692 "expressed interest in, requested or even demanded" such a probe.

Lausche Labeled Presidential Timber

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's governor, a political non-conformist, is seen as possible presidential timber by a national magazine.

Political Writer Karl Schriftgiesser, in an article in Collier's, says Democrat Frank J. Lausche's "unorthodox methods may get a national test" in 1956.

He reports: "Smart politicians know a number of sure ways to get kicked out of public office: Offend your party, alienate your state's labor leaders, blast the powerful lobbies, battle the entrenched racketeers. And if that doesn't do it, try campaigning as a Democrat in a strongly Republican state in an overwhelmingly Republican year."

Lausche thinks the secret of his success is the "enemies I have made" and has committed all these political sins and added a few twists of his own, Schriftgiesser writes, adding:

"At one time or another he has taken on almost every big lobby in the state—both good and bad. He has thrown the gamblers out of business. He has stood against the dictates of organized labor. He is proud of his still-unfinished fight against the strip-mining interests which, he claims, has disfigured and eroded much of Southeastern Ohio's terrain."

"He has cracked down on manufacturers (although labor leaders say not very hard), and on a combination of interests which tried, with partial success, to beat his program against stream pollution. He has vetoed a pay increase for school teachers, to the loud anguish of that potent block."

Lausche, the state's first four-term governor, was the only Democrat to be elected to statewide office in the GOP landslide in Ohio last November.

operation, the suit said, involved "manipulation and fakement" of point spreads in basketball games. Three University of Kentucky basketball players pleaded guilty last year in New York to keeping down the scores in fixed games after being paid by gamblers.

Two others admitted to a New York grand jury they manipulated the scores in games played outside New York.

The petition contends Rupp, and Costello "organized and are members and participants" in a scheme "to set up and maintain gambling operations and places" in Kentucky, Canada, Florida and "certain islands off the coast of Florida."

"Much use is being made," the suit added, "of the United States mails, special systems of telephonic and telegraphic outfits, especially designed to transmit information to various of the co-conspirators in numerous cities in the State of Kentucky and elsewhere."

Truman Starting For Hawaii Visit

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman headed west today for a Hawaiian vacation on which he hopes to "do as little work as possible."

Accompanying him were Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret. He declared:

"I'm starting off on a 30-day vacation. I hope to have a good time and see a lot of new scenery and do as little work as possible."

Motorists Lagging On New Tags Here

Pickaway County motorists who have yet to get their 1953 automobile tags are reminded they'll only be fooling themselves if they still haven't done so by April 1.

The office of motor vehicle registration here reports a substantial number of motorists have yet to get the plates they'll have to have the first day of next month. A spokesman for the office said:

"Too many of them apparently feel the rush is still on and that they can wait until the last minute. Then many of them will probably wonder why they have to wait in line."

The office had no customers waiting in line for short periods here Friday morning.

Fayette, Ross County Farms Quarantined By Officials

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Federal and state veterinarians today quarantined two Ohio farms—one in Ross and one in Fayette County—because they found suspected cases of vesicular exanthema.

The suspected cases of the hog disease that can cripple entire herds in a few days were discovered during a check of the courses of a shipment of Ohio hogs to Chicago that showed signs of the disease.

Dr. James R. Hay, state veterinarian, did not disclose the two farms.

He said 80 hogs were involved on the Ross County farm and 11 hogs in Fayette County.

"Both farms," said Dr. Hay, "fed raw garbage to their hogs."

The state veterinarian said 95 per cent of all cases of vesicular exanthema found in the United States since last July came in hogs that were fed raw garbage.

Garbage-fed hogs represent less than 2 per cent of the nation's swine industry. The Ohio Legislature has before it a bill that would make mandatory the cooking of garbage before it is fed to swine.

Dr. Hay said 95 per cent of the farms from which the Chicago shipment came have been checked by a team of investigators from the state animal industry division and the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry. He estimated 80 farms have been checked.

Investigators—purely as a precautionary move—Thursday cleaned and disinfected the following markets:

Chillicothe Auction Market and Swift Assembly Yard at Chillicothe; Wilmington Auction Market; Washington Court House Producers Livestock Marketing Association market; and the Fayette County Livestock Market; Hillsboro Producers Market; Hillsboro Auction Market; New Vienna Auction Market; Lynchburg (Highland) Auction Market; Xenia Auction Market.

The veterinarians plan to clean and disinfect markets at Springfield.

Delays Seen In Action On Tax-Cut Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders indicated today that delays in writing appropriations bills may postpone floor action on tax cuts for several months.

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House Appropriations Committee said "there's not a chance in the world" that the big defense spending bills can be brought to the House floor before May 25.

It will be June, he added, before the foreign aid appropriation is ready for a vote.

This raised a prospect that floor action will be delayed similarly on a tax trimming bill being urged by Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the Ways and Means Committee.

Reed's bill would advance from Dec. 31 to June 30 a 10 per cent cut scheduled in personal income tax rates.

Any further delay in action on Reed's bill would add new fire to the feud between him and Republican leaders, including President Eisenhower, over the legislation.

Reed charged Thursday that Eisenhower and others who oppose early tax cut action are betraying their campaign pledges. He termed it "unfair, dishonest and gaining office under false pretenses . . . a shocking disregard of the will of a sovereign people."

Solon Believes Radio, Press Due For Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Eberhart (D-Pa) said today he would not be surprised if Congress should decide to investigate radio commentators, newspaper columnists and newspaper editors who disagree with congressmen.

Eberhart made the remark in a speech to a meeting of the National Civil Liberties Clearing House. This is the way Eberhart put it:

"I would not be surprised if the next proposal to come along would be for the investigation of radio commentators, newspaper columnists and newspaper editors who do not express agreement with practices and procedures of a committee."

"The sky is the limit," Eberhart, a longtime critic of the methods of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said he feels the main purpose of congressional investigations — to find facts so that it's easier to legislate — has been forgotten.

"It seems to me," Eberhart said, "that most of them start out with preconceived notions and are aimed directly to either propagandize some idea or to publicize the members individually or to create a scandal for political purposes."

Thursday night President George N. Shuster of Hunter College told the civil liberties group he thinks the time has come for universities to investigate Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and report their findings to the people.

Gumball Gadgets Said 'Gambling'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Penny gumball machines have been labeled gambling devices here if they contain those glittering little gee-gaws as prizes.

Norwood patrolmen, acting on a statement by Police Lt. Harry Schlie, confiscated 22 gumball machines Thursday from 17 grocery and delicatessen stores in the suburb. No arrests were made. It seems school kids have been frittering away their lunch money to win the trinkets.

Seal Campaign Here Draws Strong Support

Pickaway County's Easter Seal campaign is setting an example for other Ohio counties.

Leaders of the drive here Friday said total contributions are already close to the average based on statewide figures in past years.

On the basis of the number of appeals sent through the mail here, Pickaway County's quota—if one had been set—would have been approximately $1,215. Contributions already on hand amount to more than $1,010.

Campaign workers pointed out this is all the more impressive since the drive, held to raise funds for the care of crippled children and special adult cases, has two weeks to go. Prior to Easter Sunday, workers hope an additional number of county residents will mail in replies to the appeal letters.

THE CAMPAIGN will depend largely upon mailed contributions. Only other source of funds will be through coin cards in county schools and the one-day Lily Parade here March 28.

Mrs. Clark Alexander, president of Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children, said:

"The people of Pickaway County are attracting the attention of campaign workers all over the state by the amount we've already raised. They are asking us how we're doing it, and we're telling them it's all because the people in this county are different."

School Honor Unit Schedules Banquet

Plans were announced Friday for the annual Pickaway County Honor Society banquet, to be held in Pickaway Township school at 6:30 p. m. April 10.

Pickaway County Superintendent George D. McDowell said faculty members from county schools and both active and new members of the Society will attend.

He emphasized the meeting will also be open to graduate members of the Society, an organization in which average high scholastic grades is the chief requirement for membership. New members are now being "tapped" in the county school system.

Wet Welcome Awaits Spring

CHICAGO (AP)—A wet welcome appeared in prospect over wide areas of the country for the official arrival of spring at 5:01 p. m. today. It also was a little cool in some sections.

Rain fell along the Pacific coast as far south as Los Angeles and snow mixed with rain hit areas in the Rocky Mountain region. The western storm center moved eastward and rain was in prospect for the North Central region.

Three competitive events have been scheduled so far.

The Legion musicians will carry Circleville's hopes into the Mansfield Invitational competition July 4, the State Legion Convention in Cleveland July 25 and the 1953 Ohio State Fair Aug. 30.

MEMBERSHIP of the local corps has been increased from 24 to 30 men during the winter.

A new set of street flags and new shako-type dress hats for all members of the corps were purchased with money won in competitive events. New type shoulder braid was bought with money raised by the outfit's auxiliary.

Cops Hold Pair For 'Rolling' Man

Circleville police Friday were holding two men for investigation of allegedly "rolling" another man for $30 Thursday afternoon in a W. Main St. cafe.

The men, ages 32 and 43, were taken into custody near Clarksburg by Deputy Carl White and Dwight Radcliff, son of Sheriff Charles Radcliff, on affidavits filed in the city.

Authorities said the men were traced by the license number of the auto in which they were riding. Preliminary action against the pair was to have been held Friday afternoon.

Man, His Own Greatest Enemy, Now Driving Self Into Ground

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—In the new atomic age the mole is safe. The test in the Nevada Desert proved that.

Man's greatest enemy always has been himself. From the dawn of time the weapons he created to kill lesser animals, either for food or in self-defense, also were used to war against his fellow men.

The club, spear, bow and arrow, rifle... they all served this dual purpose.

Each new weapon he invented gave him a greater edge over all four-footed creatures. To survive they had to dig deeper in the earth, plunge farther into the wilds, until at last man, who had destroyed them for his own nourishment or safety, came to hunt them for sport.

He made a fugitive of every form of life that wouldn't become his pet.

Now man, with his atom bomb, has made a fugitive of himself and he is a vulnerable fugitive, huddled in vast herds in vast cities, as vulnerable as the old buffalo herds that once blackened the plains.

It was a small atom bomb they used in Nevada this week, not as large as the ones dropped on Japan, only a tenth as large as some bombs in the American armory, and perhaps the Russian armory, too.

But this bomb set trees on fire a mile away, broke the joints and smashed the windows of a modern concrete and wooden house nearly a mile and a half distant.

Such a baby bomb, a deadly baby bomb, can now be fired in an artillery shell. If Hitler had it during the aerial battle of Britain, the British would be slaves today. If Hitler had it when he attacked Russia, the Nazi banner would probably be flying over a ruined Kremlin today. And Stalin would have been a rubble of defeat instead of a rubble of victory.

What can a man do against the atom bomb? He is safest in a fox-hole. But can he abandon his great cities and build his new homes, and schools and churches in foxholes? A few wealthy husbands can buy an abandoned lead mine near Joplin, Mo., and turn it into a cozy retreat. But can 50 million husbands do it?

In the new civilization he has erected, man is less-equipped for survival than the woodchuck, the fox, the earthworm or the mole. They have their burrows dug.

And if they have any real sense of humor they might get a wry laugh at the final foolishness of man, caught in a web spun out of mutual fear.

The energy in the atom can be used to turn the earth into a garden of plenty or a wasteland in which all men become fugitives from their own ingenuity.

The mole, the woodchuck, the fox, they wait in their burrows. They are ready. Mankind definitely isn't.

Jackson Fund Complaint OK'd By Auditor

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes said today an examination confirmed complaints by Miss Mary Nicholson, new Jackson County prosecutor, that contracts to rebuild the fire-swept county courthouse were illegal.

Jackson County Commissioners requested an investigation after the prosecutor's report.

Rhodes said examiners found many contracts illegal because they lacked certificates of the former county prosecutor and county statutes in awarding the general contract to Don King Buildings Supply, Jackson, for $128,564; electrical contract to Industrial Electrical Co., New Boston for $6,100; and plumbing and heating to A. J. Stockmeister, Jackson, for $17,460. They were awarded Oct. 19, 1951.

Many other supplemental contracts were termed illegal by examiners. Their reports said on last Feb. 21, commissioners had $1,092 in their building fund, and total unpaid balances on contracts and agreements of $103,245.

Relief Roll Publication Bill Studied

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A bill to make Ohio public assistance rolls public started on its way through the Legislature today when its author explained it to the Senate Finance Committee in its first hearing.

Committee members made numerous suggestions to Sen. Ross Pepple (R-Allen) for technical changes in his proposed law, but no witnesses appeared in opposition.

Sen. Ray Hildebrand (R-Lucas) brought to the committee's attention the opposition of the Ohio Lutheran Council.

Pepple said his bill, which carries a Republican policy tag in a GOP-controlled Legislature, is patterned after the Indiana law. That law created a stir a couple of years ago when the federal assistance authorities withheld federal funds from Indiana for a time.

But an amendment to a federal appropriations act by Sen. Jenner (R-Indiana) prohibited the federal government from withholding funds from a state for making public its assistance rolls with proper safeguards.

Pepple said the Indiana law and similar acts in other states has brought about a substantial drop in assistance rolls. He explained: "They dropped without any policing—they just dropped."

Pepple added: "It is not the money alone I'm worried about. I'm more concerned about the breakdown of the moral fiber in our people who seem more and more inclined to be willing to accept something for nothing."

Farmers Told Sudan Grass Can Save Them Money

Building a good, season-long pasture supply is like building a winning baseball team.

You've got to have reliable substitutes when some of your regulars are out of the line up.

Seeding a few acres of Sudan grass late this Spring can provide pinch-hitting pasture to help through emergencies this Summer when hot weather dries up bluegrass in July and August.

Such substitute forage can prevent a drop in milk production or a loss of weight in beef cattle. It can save money by eliminating the cost of feeding more grain.

A GOOD Sudan pasture stand should be built on a foundation of high soil fertility. Adding nitrogen, phosphate and potash will assure abundant pasture. Sudan needs plenty of nutrients to make thick, high yielding growth.

Sudan grass can be seeded any time through early June. A grain drill or broadcast seeder may be used, set at the rate of 30 to 35 pounds of seed per acre.

Agronomists advise keeping the stock off sweet Sudan until it is at least 18 inches high to guard against prussic acid poisoning. They recommend, too, that cattle be taken off pasture for three or four days when new growth starts after a long drouth or light frost.

Ed Wallace Submits 2 New Bills

Pickaway County Representative Ed Wallace has introduced two more bills this week before the Ohio House of Representatives.

First of the bills was a measure designed to make available certain state lands in Pickaway County for private purchase.

The bill, also submitted last year by Wallace, is designed to free a tract of land from the Orient State School for public bidding. The move is to free the land for expansion of the Belt Corp. at Orient.

Second measure submitted this week by Wallace was for the licensing, sanitation, labeling and regulation of commercial canneries.

In addition, a bill previously submitted by Wallace seeking to increase taxes on pari-mutuel race betting has passed the House by a margin of 114 to 12. The bill is expected to increase the state's "take" on betting by $3 million.

Township Clerks Underpay Selves

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A state examiner's report shows several township clerks in Licking and Vinton Counties underpaid themselves.

In Licking County Etna Twp., owed Clerk Harry Smoke $338 in unpaid compensation; Franklin Twp. owed Clerk C. L. Dusthimer $376, and Jersey Twp., owed Clerk H. D. Dickerson $132. Other townships owed their clerks smaller amounts.

Reports showed some clerks in Vinton County had paid themselves the usual $350 annual salary but had failed to add a 2 per cent statutory allowance on all township expenditures in excess of $5,000 a year.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes today returned findings for recovery against the townships.

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on the fust within the Republican party over the budget and the chances of cutting taxes.

President Truman on Jan. 9 sent to Congress his budget, or estimate of government expenses, for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The budget: $78,600,000,000. Estimated revenue, from income taxes, corporation taxes, and other sources: $68,700,000,000.

This meant government expenses would exceed government revenue by $9,900,000,000, a deficit of almost 10 billion dollars. A 10 billion dollar deficit would boost the national debt, now running at $267,400,000,000, even higher.

Some Republican congressmen announced at once, without time to examine all the itemized figures Truman gave them, that they could cut the budget as much as 10 or 12 billion dollars.

It would be nice if they could. That would really balance the budget.

The question was: How? Where would the cuts be made? Of the total $78,600,000,000 Truman budget, about 87 per cent, or $68,300,000,000 would be for paying off interest on the national debt, for veterans payments, and for national defense and foreign aid.

Nothing could be cut off the interest on the debt. That's fixed. Nothing could be taken from the veterans. That would be bad politics. How could cuts be made in defense and foreign aid without endangering the country?

Well, maybe President Eisenhower could solve it when he took over Jan. 2. During the campaign he had spoken often about all the government waste that could be cut out.

Right after he took office he said eliminating that $9,900,000,000 deficit would be the "first order of business." He's been looking for ways to do it ever since.

Still, some of his Republicans in Congress were hot for cutting taxes. He knew that any tax cut, which meant a cut in government revenue, would make it just that tougher to balance the budget.

So at his first White House news conference Feb. 17 he said the government couldn't afford to cut taxes until it had in sight a spending program which balanced income and outgo.

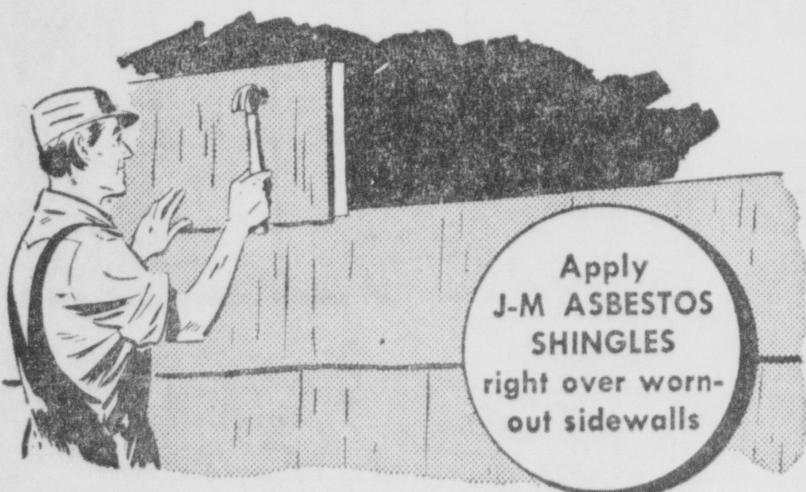

That didn't stop a veteran House Republican, Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York, who is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which handles all tax problems for the House. He wanted a tax cut, and soon.

Reed and his committee voted to cut individual income taxes 10 per cent. When would it start? When the budget was balanced? Not necessarily. July 1, when that new budget, which might exceed revenue, would go into effect.

This needs explaining: Under present law the excess profits tax on business will expire July 1, unless Congress votes to extend it. And, under present law, the income tax in individuals is scheduled to drop 10 per cent, starting Jan. 1.

Ike Against Any Ceiling On Tax Rates

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—President Eisenhower today told an Ohio state senator he regrets he "cannot concur in the current proposals for a constitutional amendment to place a ceiling on tax rates."

His comment on a drive in state legislature to ask Congress to limit federal income and inheritance taxes to 25 per cent was made in a letter received today by Sen. Anthony J. Celebrezze, a Cleveland Democrat.

The President's letter was in response to an inquiry Celebrezze made of him last Feb. 6. Eisenhower declared:

"Although I fully share the universal desire to reduce tax burdens and am exerting every effort to cut back expenditures to secure tax reduction within a balanced budget, the proposed constitutional limitation on tax rates would endanger the country's financial structure."

State Sen. David McK. Ferguson, Cambridge Republican and author of a tax limit resolution pending in the Ohio Legislature, said he was not dismayed by presidential opposition. After reading a copy of the Eisenhower letter, he commented:

"You can say I believe the President's views on the matter are taken from the thinking of Tom Dewey (New York governor) the Chase National Bank and the international money crowd."

Sen. Ferguson indicated he still favors an attempt to get the Ohio Legislature to pass the resolution. The Republican-controlled Ohio Senate defeated a similar Ferguson resolution two years ago by a single vote.

the excess profits tax on business July 1, then it's only fair to move up that 10 per cent income tax on individuals from Jan. 1 to July 1, too.

Together the end of the excess profits tax and Reed's 10 per cent drop in income tax would mean a total loss of revenue to the government of $4,300,000,000.

Eisenhower's position is: We can't cut government revenue before we can cut government expenses down to a point where they match the revenue. He said that again yesterday.

He not only didn't want Reed monkeying around with a tax cut but said that if Congress lets the excess profits tax expire July 1, he wants it to pass some other kind of tax to make up the loss.

This might indicate he won't want income taxes dropped Jan. 1, either. So Eisenhower, who talked freely during the campaign about cutting expenses, is finding it's easier said than done.

North Central Airlines also has an application with the Civil Aeronautics Board to purchase the line. Ozark Airlines is asking the board for Lake Central's routes which include cities in Indiana, Illinois and Michigan.

Ten of the 11 business and professional men who have entered their bid are from Toledo. The other is from Columbus. Edward F. Knight of Toledo is the corporation's president.

Ex-Actress Is Held In Morals Case

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Former actress Dorothy Comingore has pleaded innocent and asked for a jury trial on charges of prostitution.

Miss Comingore, 40, was arrested by sheriff's vice squad officers yesterday. They said they picked her up at a bar and that she suggested: "Let's find a dark place to go."

The actress, who co-starred 13 years ago with Orson Welles in "Citizen Kane," commented: "Even if I had left my head at home I wouldn't have said a thing like that. This is all a part of my being an 'unfriendly witness.'" writer Richard Collins. She declined at that time to say whether she was a member of the Communist party, saying she is "a loyal American."

Collins had renounced communism two years before and appeared as a friendly witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee. Last Oct. 6 Miss Comingore appeared before that committee in Los Angeles and refused to answer questions about party affiliations.

JUDAS ISCARIOT AGREES TO BETRAY HIS MASTER

Scripture—Matthew 26.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THE EPISODES related in today's lesson are heartbreaking from a human point of view. Jesus' knowledge of His impending arrest, trial and painful death; and His knowledge also that one of His disciples would betray Him to His enemies; how it must have torn His sensitive heart, even as it would that of a mere mortal.

The impossibility of making His close companions acquainted with what was so soon to happen must also have been a great grief. He had spoken of it often to them, but while they had seemed to understand it at certain times, it evidently had not entered deeply into their consciousness. They apparently "lost no sleep over it," as we say.

After the Lord's sayings in our last lesson He again told His disciples that in two days the feast of the Passover would be celebrated and then He would be betrayed to be crucified. It was then that the chief priests, the scribes and elders of the people went to the high priest's palace to consult as to how they might destroy Him.

The high priest's name was Caiaphas. They must not take Him on the feast day, he said, "lest there be an uproar among the people."

In the meantime Jesus went to

opportunity to betray Him."

On the first day of the Passover Jesus told His disciples to tell a household that He would keep the feast at his house, so they made ready as He had said. As they sat down to eat, Jesus said, "Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray Me." Eleven of them were shocked and asked, "Lord, is it I?"

"He that dipeth his hand with Me in the dish, the same shall betray me," He answered. Also, Jesus said, "Woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! It had been good for that man if he had not been born."

Even after this Judas had the effrontery to ask, "Master, is it I?" and Jesus replied, "Thou hast said."

Breaking the bread, blessing it and giving to His disciples, Jesus said, "Take, eat; this is My body. And He took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, 'For this is My blood which is shed for many for the remission of sins.'"

After the ceremonies of the Passover had been concluded, they sang a hymn, as was the custom, and went out into the Mount of Olives.

Jesus suggested that His friends might be offended with Him for His actions that evening, but Peter insisted that no

Bethany, to the home of Simon the leper. There a woman came to him, with an alabaster box of precious ointment in her hand. This she poured over the Master's head. The disciples considered this a great waste. They could have sold the ointment and used the money to feed the poor.

Jesus said, "Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon Me."

"For ye have the poor always with you; but Me ye have not always. For in that she hath poured this ointment on My body, she did it for My burial."

In the Nazi regime in Germany, and now in the Soviet Union the people are urged to report to the authorities anyone whom they suspect of any disloyalty to the government—even members of their own families—their nearest and dearest companions and friends.

How could Judas Iscariot who had been with the Christ in daily communion; who had seen His compassion for the suffering and sinners, had witnessed His miracles of healing and His teachings of love, turn against Him and betray Him to those who were thirsting for His death?

Judas went to these scheming church authorities and asked them what they would give him if he delivered Jesus to them. They agreed to give him 30 pieces of silver—the price of a slave. "And from that time he sought matter who might be offended, he never would be."

"Jesus said unto him, Verily, I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt betray Me thrice."

Peter still protested, saying, "Though I should die with Thee, yet will I not deny Thee."

Taking Peter, James and John with Him, Jesus went to the garden of Gethsemane and, going a little way apart, He prayed that if it was possible, the suffering in store for Him be avoided. "Nevertheless, not as I will, but as Thou wilt."

Coming back to His companions He found them sleeping, and what a world of paths are suggested by the words, "What, could ye not watch with Me one hour?"

Again He prayed, and again when He returned He found the others asleep. Then the third time He returned to them He said, "Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. Rise, let us be going; behold, he is at hand that doth betray Me."

And so it was: With the affectionate greeting, "Hail, Master," Judas kissed Him, and He was seized and led away.

Of His trial before the church authorities and Peter's denial, we have not space to write here. The chapter ends with Peter's bitter sorrow over his great fault.

Ward's, Top Hat Pacing Men's Loops; Women's League Is Tight

Substantial leads have been piled up by Top Hat and Ward's Market kегlers respectively in the Monday and Wednesday men's bowling leagues in Circleville.

But competition is keen for the top honors in the Tuesday Women's League, with Kinsey's and Top Hat racing neck and neck for the finish wire.

In the Women's League, Kinsey's lead by a four-game margin with a record of 66 wins in 84 tests; while Top Hat threatens the lead with 64 wins in 84 games.

In the six-team Monday League, Top Hat kегlers dominate the loop with 62 victories in 84 games to date, with Butch's Jewelers and Palm's Carry-out ranking in a tie for second with 44 wins each in 84 games.

THE MARGIN is equally well defined in the 12-team Wednesday men's league also, with Ward's in the top slot with 59 wins in 75 games and Basic kегlers in second spot with only 45 wins in 75 games.

Only 13 Hopefuls Answer Call For 1953 Track Squad

A meagre list of only 13 candidates have answered the call for Circleville High School's 1953 track season.

Coch Tom Bennett said only two of last year's veteran cindermen have returned this season. They are Jim Leist, distance runner, and George Troutman, specializing in the weights.

Other applicants for varsity track berths this season are Joe Hill, Jay Curry, Charles Camp, Rollie Tigner, Gene Stonerock, George Kerr, Dave Greeno, Dave Bircher, Carl Martin, Jim Phillips and Gary McKenzie. Ken Crawford is manager for the small squad.

FIRST CONTEST facing the Tiger tracksters this season will be a triangular meet April 8 at Upper Arlington with Washington C. H. All of the CHS track meet this year are to be held "away." Bennett said, because of the lack of facilities here.

Complete schedule of meets for the Tiger cindermen this season is as follows:

April 8—At Arlington with Washington.
April 14—At Chillicothe with Greenfield.
April 16—At Washington.
April 21—At Lancaster.
April 24—At Wilmington.
April 27—At Greenfield with Hillsboro.
April 30—At Westerville.
May 6—SCO League meet (with Washington, Greenfield, Hillsboro and Wilmington).
May 12—Arlington Relays.

McGran has the top average of either league with a 178-per-game mark in the Monday League. In that league he is trailed by Smith with 175.

Smith heads the kегlers in the Wednesday loop, however, with a 177-pin mark, trailed by Olney with 176 and Morgan with 175.

Smith also holds the distinction of having rolled the highest single game to date. He carded a 278 last Wednesday to post a new high mark over his previous effort.

Bob Moon paces the Monday league in high single game mark with a 266 game, with Bob Ferguson second with 261.

PETE NOBLE has rolled the high three-game series in men's league competition, a 658-pin game in the Monday League.

Glen Weiler, another Monday Leaguer, was next high with 652. Art McGran and Earl Wilson of Monday League tied at 645 and Smith of Wednesday League with 634.

Tops among lady kегlers in the Tuesday League is Tillie Smith who has posted an average of 153 pins per game. Maxine Amey and Marge Olney are tied for next high with 151 averages each.

Marge Olney has rolled the top three-game series to date in Women's League games with a 553-pin mark, trailed by Mary Noble with a 548 series. B. Bumgarner has the top single game mark with a 237, while Olney is next with a 224.

National AAU Cage Tourney In Semifinals

DENVER (AP)—Three Pacific Coast clubs and the defending champion Peoria, Ill., Diesel Cats scrambled through to victory Thursday night in pressure-filled quarterfinal games of the 46th national AAU basketball tournament.

Tonight's semifinals match the champion Cats against a crew of keepaway artists from San Diego, Calif., and the Cinderella team of Oregon Collegians from Eugene against the silk-smooth Los Alamitos Naval Air Station team of Long Beach, Calif.

Missing from the semifinals for the first time in 15 years are the Phillips 66ers of Bartlesville, Okla. They were sidelined in the second round, 65-52, by the Everybody's Drug team from Eugene, Ore.

Peoria's Cats needed all the savvy they could muster to subdue the Houston Oilers, 61-57.

The San Diego team, representing Grialva Motors, turned back the Grifalva, Va., Marines, 63-55, on a fine individual performance by Jim Hoverder, who canned 22 points.

The San Diego club played keep-away during the final minutes and completely upset the younger servicemen. The score was tied four times in the second period and the Marines held a 38-37 lead midway of the third period before the Californians pulled away.

'Marbles Team' Being Fielded

NEW YORK (AP)—New York University, which dropped football last week, had a marble team today, but it was imaginary.

The Heights Daily News, one of the university's undergraduate newspapers, began a series of articles on an imaginary marble team which is supposed to replace the football team.

The first article said 120 students had turned out for the team and that one of the opponents will be the New York Institute for the Investigation of Rolling Spheroids.

The News, needless to say, is bitter at the action of the university in dropping football.

Ralph (Tiger) Jones, no relation to Bobby, but the Tiger wasn't awed by Bratton's reputation and all but chased him out of the ring to provide an upset. The 10 p. m. ET 10 rounder will be broadcast and telecast.

Sokolsky's These Days

But it would be foolhardy to make cuts in the work of the Atomic Energy Commission, particularly in relation to its researches. Often an Administration, seeking to avoid unpopularity, makes its cuts in obscure agencies, thus averting a quarrel with members of Congress who served vested interests in the expenditures.

Every citizen has a vested interest in the work of the Atomic Energy Commission, because each of our lives and the lives of our children are dependent upon the work of this agency of government.

There is no private activity in this field; it is a government monopoly. Congress can keep it strong or reduce it to a sterile bureau of the Administration. The Pentagon can take it over with the consent of Congress, and make it a soft-ball of interservice politics.

This should be watched closely at this moment when the Bureau of the Budget is looking for something to lop off the government payroll.

Redlegs Starting Out As 'Spoiler'

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, who sometimes delight in the role of "spoilers" during the regular season, have started up their old tricks in the spring training season.

They whipped the spanking-new Milwaukee Braves (nee the Boston Braves) 4-3 Thursday.

It was the Redlegs' fifth straight triumph in the Grapefruit League.

Shortstop Roy McMillan and outfielder Willard Marshall, the first a youngster and the latter a tried-and-tested veteran, each knocked in a run on a booming triple.

Hospital Day To Be May 3 In Chillicothe

Worship Rites To Be Feature Of Observance

Outstanding Men Of Religion To Be Heard In Early Rites

Disabled veterans and visitors will join in religious worship on Hospital Day May 3 in Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital.

Since religion plays an important part in the rehabilitation of veterans — providing spiritual guidance, social service, counseling and other aid throughout the year — outstanding men have been secured to represent the three major faiths on Hospital Day.

Most Reverend John King Musio, D.D., Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Steubenville, will offer Mass in the Catholic service in the recreation hall at 8:30 a. m.

The Rev. Otto Ebert, D.D., president of the Ohio District of the American Lutheran church, will be guest speaker in the Protestant service to be held on the athletic field at 10 a. m.

RABBI NATHAN Zelizer, of Temple Tifereth Israel, Columbus, will direct the Jewish service in the chapel at 10 a. m.

These three men have long been interested in veterans affairs and have outstanding records of public service.

Since assuming charge of the Steubenville Diocese in 1944, Bishop Musio has established six new parishes, formed four new elementary schools, built two new Central High Schools, established a seminary, and was instrumental in founding the College of Steubenville and the Diocese newspaper, The Steubenville Register.

He has evidenced a sincere interest in veterans affairs through special weekly Masses for service men, the issuance of a news bulletin for them, and the release of several of his priests for service as chaplains in the Armed Forces. The Bishop has addressed veteran throngs throughout Ohio and is no stranger to Chillicothe, on various occasions having visited the community in his capacity as Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati.

The Reverend Otto Ebert, who started his ministry in a little coal-mining town near Pittsburgh, Pa., served in Christ Lutheran church in Bexley from 1930 to 1949, at which time he concluded his pastorate to accept the post of president of the Ohio District of the American Lutheran Church.

He served as chaplain for the House of Representatives, State of Ohio, during the Ninety-first and the Ninety-second General Assemblies. He has served on the Board of American Missions, of which he was chairman for five years, and on numerous intersynodical commissions.

His home is in Bexley, and he maintains the office of the District in the Wartburg Building, Columbus, where the general offices of the American Lutheran Church are located.

RABBI ZELIZER has been Rabbi of Temple Tifereth Israel, Columbus, since 1931. He is president of the Columbus Recreation commission, a member of the Franklin County Area Rent Advisory Board, and a member of the Board of Di-

Canberra Jet Falls; 2 Killed

AINSBOROUGH, England (AP)—Two British airmen died last night in the crash of a speedy Canberra jet bomber, returning from a mock war raid over West Germany. It was the first fatality in four days of the Exercise Jungle King—the biggest air maneuvers of its kind since World War II.

The two-engine bomber plunged to the ground and exploded just three miles short of its home base here. Another Canberra set a record last fall by flying across the Atlantic and back in one day.

In World War II he served as chaplain in the Pacific and in Japan. He has also served as Chaplain at various state institutions and at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital. He is a member of the Steering Committee of Services to Old Age Groups, Council of Social Agencies, Columbus. And he was selected by the Columbus Citizen as one of the ten most outstanding citizens of Columbus during 1952.

The public is invited to visit the Veterans Administration Hospital and hear these outstanding men. Since 1946, public attendance at the Hospital Day religious services has increased each year, and plans are being made to accommodate a large turnout on May 3.

Executives See Prosperity As Continuing

More Confidence Being Heard From Business Leaders

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Business once more is pushing back the deadline for the slump. More executives now look for prosperity to hold all through the year.

The switch to confidence by many industrialists and financiers who earlier had been doubtful about the last half of 1953 is not shared by all. But it appears to be growing.

Among reasons for the new optimism:

Belief that world tension will keep this country's defense spending high — might even send it higher. Defense industries will continue to flourish.

Belief that consumers are going to keep on spending — much more important to the economy than defense spending.

Signs that profits right now are running higher than a year ago — they've been picking up since last summer.

A steady increase in confident statements by business leaders discounting earlier fears of a let-down late this year.

And, a seeming paradox: The caution which many businessmen are showing. This caution in handling inventories, purchasing policies, and financing breeds confidence this way: It reassures many observers that businessmen aren't climbing out on a limb as they did in the late twenties, thus lessening any threat of a sharp, snowballing break.

The auto industry is a leader in the parade of optimism — as it usually is. It expects to sell more cars this year, even if more of them will be on the cuff.

Tire makers are counting on a 15 per cent gain in replacement sales this year, and on selling more original equipment tires to the auto makers. Tire stocks are being built up on this confidence, and are now reported 40 per cent above last year.

More new homes are being started now than at this time last year.

The real judge, however, is the consumer. He'll decide what kind of a year it is, most businessmen agree.

And the consumer is more confident than a year ago, the Federal Reserve Board reports today. His debt total has climbed to almost 24 billion dollars but it does not seem to worry him.

Taft Seeks New Survey On U. S. Military Needs

Senator Makes Request As Ike Says Nation Cannot Slow Its Combat Strength Buildup Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) called today for a fresh survey of U. S. military needs in the light of President Eisenhower's assertion that the nation can't slow its combat strength buildup.

The Ohioan, the Senate's Republican leader, said he believes little can be done immediately toward altering the military program outlined by former President Truman in his $46 billion budget request.

But Taft said he thinks a complete resurvey by the new administration of overall armed services requirements is in order. He indicated this should go far beyond present efforts to reorganize the Truman program.

"I think we have got to look at the whole picture and see what needs to be done," he observed.

Rep. Short (R-Mo) said tighter

management could cut billions of dollars from defense costs — the only way, he said, to reduce expenditures without impairing preparedness.

SHORT, CHAIRMAN of the House Armed Services Committee, said the solution is to "squeeze the water" out of defense spending by tighter supervision and better long-range planning.

"The measure of strength," he said, "is not how many billions of dollars you spend but how many armed and trained divisions you have ready."

Short said "vast savings" could be made by better management of military procurement and by standardizing the items commonly used by all services.

Taft said he believes overhead or administrative economies suggested by Eisenhower at a White House news conference Thursday can account for some sizeable savings. The President said the nation could not reduce its combat strength, and that he was trying to get adequate defense for fewer dollars.

Some other legislators doubted that enough administrative reductions will be found to balance a budget Truman predicted would take the country nearly $10 billion further into the red in the year beginning July 1.

Sen. Young (R-ND), an Appropriations Committee member, said he doubts that even severe trimming in administrative costs will yield enough economy.

"Until we get more military assistance from other free nations, we're stuck with a high level of expenditures," he said.

SEN. GORE (D-Tenn) guessed that no more than $1 billion might be cut off military overhead. But he added that no president in his lifetime "has been better qualified to cut the frill and fender from the military than Eisenhower."

Gore said he interpreted Eisenhower's statements as endorsing Truman.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said he would like to see administrative costs reduced but he said Eisenhower administration hasn't shown any signs yet of "knowing where to cut."

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo) said he agrees with Eisenhower that this country must build toward sufficient military strength. But he said he thinks "there can be sufficient reduction in military overhead to balance the budget."

Short cited, as one possible saving, a sharp curtailment of military travel—what he termed "needless shuttling of men from one end of the country to the other."

He noted that about $21 billion were earmarked in Truman's defense budget for military personnel and operation and maintenance, and said: "These and other items represent fixed costs which cannot be reduced without reducing total strength."

Major procurement, for airplanes and tanks and similar weapons, totaled $17 billion in the Truman budget.

"If we reduce that," Short said, "we have to be careful not to cut the muscle."

Pilot Of Famed Island Queen Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Funeral services for Capt. Joseph W. McLaughlin, 76, pilot on the Island Queen which burned here in 1947, will be held Saturday.

McLaughlin, who was born in Lawrence County, O., died Wednesday. A steamboat captain the last 50 years, McLaughlin was one of the few remaining pilots who took the old time show boats up and down inland waterways. Nineteen persons died when the Island Queen burned, McLaughlin was not aboard at the time.

UN Secretary Vote Stalled

Mrs. Pandit Defeated In Thursday Ballot

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The race for a new United Nations secretary general was wide open again today with Russia's latest candidate, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India, beaten in her first bid before the Security Council.

In a gruelling five-hour secret session Thursday, the 11-nation council turned down Mrs. Pandit, sister of India's Prime Minister Nehru, and then called again on the Big Five permanent members to try to iron out the deadlock before their next meeting, scheduled for March 24.

In the drawn-out maneuvering over a successor for Trygve Lie, which promises to continue for some time, only Lebanon was said to have voted with Russia in the secret ballot on Mrs. Pandit. Eight nations, including the United States reportedly abstained and Nationalist China, it was indicated, cast the one vote against her.

India's petite, gray-haired chief delegate, still in the running despite Thursday's defeat, has insisted she would take the $40,000-a-year job only if everyone agrees on her. Her Indian colleagues indicate she would prefer not to be tagged as the candidate of either Russia or the West.

BESIDES MRS. Pandit, the five big powers—Britain, the United States, France, Russia and Nationalist China—have discussed at least 11 other possible candidates. Three—Canada's Lester B. Pearson, Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines and Polish Foreign Minister Stanislaw Skrzyszewski—were turned down last Friday.

The Big Five set no date for their next huddle before the next full council meeting Tuesday. That session comes two days before the scheduled return to the UN of Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky from major policy talks in Moscow with the new regime of Prime Minister Georgi M. Malenkov.

Knife And Noise Bills Approved

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Senate Thursday passed two measures and sent them to the House.

One would enable rural police to stifle noise-makers. The measure carried a $10-50 penalty for disturbing the "peace and quiet of the community." It applied to horns, bells, radios, loud speakers and the like. The Senate passed it 25-7.

The other provided maximum six-month imprisonment for selling, exhibiting or carrying "switch-blade" knives—those fitted with a spring to expose the blade. It passed unanimously.

No Dent Seen In Hard Facts Of Cold War

Soft Words Fly In U.S.-Red Tiff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia and the United States have been throwing soft words and peaceful assurances at each other for 10 days now without making any dent in the hard facts of the cold war.

And in that time Allied airplanes have been shot down in Germany and fired on in the North Pacific.

Is this some kind of grim and cynical game, or is it the first round of a prolonged propaganda and diplomatic sparring which may eventually lead to an easing of world tensions?

Diplomatic officials, though highly skeptical about Russian intentions, said today it is still too early to say what the long range behavior of the Soviet dictatorship may be under Georgi Malenkov, Joseph Stalin's successor as dictator.

At some point, but apparently not yet, these officials think careful diplomatic probing of Soviet intentions will be necessary to determine whether the Kremlin is really ready to do business on some real issues—such as ending the Korean War, for example.

EISENHOWER administration officials have been considering possible lines of Soviet behavior in the event Malenkov really wants to demonstrate that his peace talk is sincere. One idea administration leaders are reported to have come up with was that the Soviets might agree to some acceptable plan for resolving the prisoner of war issue which has been the most persistent point of deadlock in Korea truce talks.

One fact about the current round of peace statements which was also true of earlier word exchanges with the late Premier Stalin is this:

Neither of the leading powers of the two blocs into which the world is divided can afford to be backward in its expressions of devotion to peace.

Both normally hedge statements or put them in such general terms that they are not committed to any concrete action.

The great difference between statements from Moscow and from Washington, as Western leaders see it, is that there can be no doubt of the sincerity behind this government's declarations for peace. The conditions of a peaceful world would be manifestly beneficial to its standard of living, trade and general economy, although Soviet propaganda contends U. S. prosperity is due to a war economy.

Russia's totalitarian political system, on the other hand, is regarded here as making it profitable for the men in the Kremlin to prolong world uncertainty and tension to justify their own high handed methods.

Too Cold Yet For Mushrooms? Better Get Sack

Many folks have been eyeing the sunny skies and thawing thermometers this week with a growing appetite for mushrooms.

But the big question is: Are they up yet, or is it too early? Carl Riffle of 717 Maplewood Ave. broke up the questioning Friday by displaying a handful of sponge mushrooms he and his wife, Elsie Jane, gathered Thursday evening.

The mushrooms were small—the largest just over an inch tall—but sufficiently tasty-looking to win him the honor of reporting the first mushrooms here. And to start the annual stampede of sack-carrying hunters toward woods and blue-grass pastures.

Riffle said he and his wife found "75 or 80" in a favorite patch of his. Naturally, location of the patch is a secret, but Riffle said it was in a woods rather than an open field.

"It'll be two or three weeks before they're up good," Riffle added. "The nights are too cold yet, and you aren't going to find too many this early."

Kentucky Coach Linked To Pro Gamblers In Lawsuit

Adolph Rupp Claimed In On 'Debasing' Deal

$573,257 Asked Of Top Cage Figure; Costello Named As Defendant

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—University of Kentucky basketball Coach Adolph Rupp and professional gamblers Ed Curd and Frank Costello today were named co-defendants in a federal court suit seeking triple damages of $573,257.79 for alleged gambling losses.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Lucille Chumbley Bradberry of Athens, Ga. She is the sister of George Chumbley, one of the alleged losers in gambling operations the suit said were conducted by "Curd and his co-conspirators."

The amount asked is three times the total of the losses alleged in the suit. How many others besides Chumbley figured in the claimed loss of $191,085.93 was not stipulated in the suit.

Curd, Rupp and Costello, the suit alleged, "concocted a fraudulent and debasing scheme of gambling in schools, colleges and university sports and athletics," and "seduced student leaders and players to betray their institutions and devotees of the institutions and college sports."

COSTELLO WAS a key figure during the Senate Crime Committee investigation. He is now in the federal correctional institution at Milan, Mich., serving 18 months for contempt of Congress. He also is under indictment for income tax evasion.

Curd, of Lexington, is now in Canada, according to federal authorities who have charged him with federal income tax evasion. He was indicted in Louisville earlier this month.

Tito Nearing End Of His British Visit

LONDON (AP)—Reported well-pleased with results of his defense talks with British leaders, Yugoslav President Tito faced a final round of social functions today as his five-day official visit here neared its end.

Sometime Saturday morning, the anti-Soviet Communist dictator will board a launch and travel down the Thames River to join the Yugoslav training ship Galeb for his return voyage home.

Although no details of Tito's program were disclosed for security reasons it was reported he would be a guest of Queen Elizabeth II at scenic Windsor Castle, just outside London, today.

The Yugoslav strong man also arranged to attend a dinner being given tonight for him at the House of Commons by the National Executive of the Labor party.

Tito outlined for Prime Minister Churchill and top British economic and military officials Thursday a Yugoslav plan to block Soviet aggression in the Eastern Mediterranean.

Although no exact details were disclosed, informed sources said the plan involved increased British economic aid to Yugoslavia.

A Yugoslav source said Tito will have achieved his main purpose if he has convinced British leaders that his country should receive a greater share of Britain's limited supply of arms and aid. Britain already has agreed to give the Balkan nation $12,600,000 in economic aid for the year ending in June.

Safety 'Queen' Runs Afoul Law

NEW YORK (AP)—Elaine Aiken has pleaded guilty to running through a stop sign, driving without a license and going the wrong way on a one-way street.

The 24-year-old blonde appeared in traffic court Thursday and paid a $25 fine. She was "Miss Safety of 1952" in a traffic safety parade here.

Bohlen Still GOP Target

McCarthy, Bridges Continue Objection

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators who oppose Charles Bohlen's nomination as ambassador to Russia renewed their demands today for a review of the FBI report on the nominee.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which approved Bohlen unanimously Wednesday, should reopen its hearings to get the report.

And Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) declared that, if President Eisenhower examined "even the FBI summary" of the file on Bohlen, "I think he would reject him." Eisenhower told his news conference Thursday he thought Bohlen's nomination was a very good idea.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) said the Foreign Relations Committee was satisfied with Secretary of State Dulles' evaluation of the FBI file during 2½ hours of testimony Wednesday when he said there was nothing to arouse the slightest suspicion about Bohlen's loyalty.

"I COULD have made the evaluation myself," Wiley said, "but the FBI summary was available so late, I wouldn't take the responsibility. Mr. Dulles passed up an engagement at an embassy to give it a thorough going-over for the committee."

Wiley said his committee requires that, before it approves any nominee, an FBI report must be put in the hands of the State Department.

"Under this rule," he said, "the chairman will either evaluate it himself and request the aid of the ranking minority member, or have it evaluated by a competent official."

"The highest man in the State Department (Dulles) evaluated the report on Bohlen."

Senate Majority Leader Taft of Ohio predicted only a few votes will be cast against Bohlen Monday when he brings up the nomination for Senate confirmation. The Senate GOP Policy Committee was to consider it today.

Hunt Continuing For Crash Victims

ST. JOHN'S (AP)—Search continued today for the bodies of two missing victims of a U. S. bomber crash on Newfoundland's isolated east coast as rescue parties waited clearing weather to bring out the remains of 21 known dead.

Their burned-out plane was one of two American bombers downed Wednesday in Newfoundland with a possible toll of 33 lives.

Twenty-three of the men were aboard a huge 10-engine RB-36 that smashed into a hill. The other 10 were crewmen of a B-29 from which wreckage was found floating in St. George's Bay with no sign of survivors.

Hillsboro Water Main Snaps Again

HILLSBORO (AP)—Repairmen raced today to fix a break in a 10-inch water main while two fire department pump trucks kept this city of 5,000 supplied with water.

The break, the second at the Hillsboro filtration plant in a month, occurred Thursday. The two fire trucks were keeping up some water pressure through 3,000 feet of hose. They are the only fire trucks available to fight fires.

Lausche thinks the secret of his success is the "enemies I have made" and has committed all these political sins and added a few twists of his own, Schriftgiesser writes, adding:

"At one time or another he has taken on almost every big lobby in the state—both good and bad. He has thrown the gamblers out of business. He has stood against the dictates of organized labor. He is proud of his still-unfinished fight against the strip-mining interests which, he claims, has disfigured and eroded much of Southeastern Ohio's terrain."

"He has cracked down on manufacturers (although labor leaders say not very hard), and on a combination of interests which tried, with partial success, to beat his program against stream pollution. He has vetoed a pay increase for school teachers, to the loud anguish of that potent block."

Lausche, the state's first four-term governor, was the only Democrat to be elected to state-wide office in the GOP landslide in Ohio last November.

operation, the suit said, involved "manipulation and fakement" of point spreads in basketball games.

Three University of Kentucky basketball players pleaded guilty last year in New York to keeping down the scores in fixed games after being paid by gamblers.

Two others admitted to a New York grand jury they manipulated the scores in games played outside New York.

The petition contends Rupp and Costello "organized and are members and participants" in a scheme "to set up and maintain gambling operations and places" in Kentucky, Canada, Florida and "certain islands off the coast of Florida."

"Much use is being made," the suit added, "of the United States mails, special systems of telephone and telegraphic outfits, especially designed to transmit information to various of the co-conspirators in numerous cities in the State of Kentucky and elsewhere."

Truman Starting For Hawaii Visit

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman headed west today for a Hawaiian vacation on which he hopes to "do as little work as possible."

Accompanying him were Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret. He declared: "I'm starting off on a 30-day vacation. I hope to have a good time and see a lot of new scenery and do as little work as possible."

Motorists Lagging On New Tags Here

Pickaway County motorists who have yet to get their 1953 automobile tags are reminded they'll only be fooling themselves if they still haven't done so by April 1.

The office of motor vehicle registration here reports a substantial number of motorists have yet to get the plates they'll have to have the first day of next month. A spokesman for the office said: "Too many of them apparently feel the rush is still on and that they can wait until the last minute. Then many of them will probably wonder why they have to wait in line."

The office had no customers waiting in line for short periods here Friday morning.

County Spelling Bee Finals Set April 7

Fayette, Ross County Farms Quarantined By Officials

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Federal and state veterinarians today quarantined two Ohio farms—one in Ross and one in Fayette County—because they found suspected cases of vesicular exanthema.

The suspected cases of the hog disease that can cripple entire herds in a few days were discovered during a check of the courses of a shipment of Ohio hogs to Chicago that showed signs of the disease.

Dr. James R. Hay, state veterinarian, did not disclose the two farms.

He said 80 hogs were involved on the Ross County farm and 11 hogs in Fayette County.

"Both farms," said Dr. Hay, "fed raw garbage to their hogs." The state veterinarian said 95 per cent of all cases of vesicular exanthema found in the United States since last July came in hogs that were fed raw garbage.

Garbage-fed hogs represent less than 2 per cent of the nation's swine industry. The Ohio Legislature has before it a bill that would make mandatory the cooking of garbage before it is fed to swine.

Dr. Hay said 95 per cent of the farms from which the Chicago shipment came have been checked by a team of investigators from the state animal industry division and the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry. He estimated 80 farms have been checked.

Investigators—purely as a precautionary move—Thursday cleaned and disinfected the following markets:

Chillicothe Auction Market and Swift Assembly Yard at Chillicothe; Wilmington Auction Market; Washington Court House Producers Livestock Marketing Association market, and the Fayette County Livestock Market; Hillsboro Producers Market; Hillsboro Auction Market; New Vienna Auction Market; Lynchburg (Highland) Auction Market; Xenia Auction Market.

The veterinarians plan to clean and disinfect markets at Springfield.

Delays Seen In Action On Tax-Cut Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders indicated today that delays in writing appropriations bills may postpone floor action on tax cuts for several months.

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House Appropriations Committee said "there's not a chance in the world" that the big defense spending bills can be brought to the House floor before May 25.

And it will be June, he added, before the foreign aid appropriation is ready for a vote.

This raised a prospect that floor action will be delayed similarly on a tax trimming bill being urged by Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the Ways and Means Committee. Reed's bill would advance from Dec. 31 to June 30 a 10 per cent cut scheduled in personal income tax rates.

Any further delay in action on Reed's bill would add new fire to the feud between him and Republican leaders, including President Eisenhower, over the legislation.

Reed charged Thursday that Eisenhower and others who oppose early tax cut action are betraying their campaign pledges. He termed it "unfair, dishonest and gaining office under false pretenses... a shocking disregard of the will of a sovereign people."

Solon Believes Radio, Press Due For Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Eberhardt (D-Pa) said today he would not be surprised if Congress should decide to investigate radio commentators, newspaper columnists and newspaper editors who disagree with congressmen.

Eberhardt made the remark in a speech to a meeting of the National Civil Liberties Clearing House. This is the way Eberhardt put it:

"I would not be surprised if the next proposal to come along would be for the investigation of radio commentators, newspaper columnists and newspaper editors who do not express agreement with practices and procedures of a committee."

"The sky is the limit," Eberhardt, a longtime critic of the methods of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said he feels the main purpose of congressional investigations — to find facts so that it's easier to legislate — has been forgotten.

"It seems to me," Eberhardt said, "that most of them start out with preconceived notions and are aimed directly to either propagandize some idea or to publicize the members individually or to create a scandal for political purposes."

Thursday night President George N. Shuster of Hunter College told the civil liberties group he thinks the time has come for universities to investigate Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and report their findings to the people.

Gumball Gadgets Said 'Gambling'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Penny gumball machines have been labeled gambling devices here if they contain those glittering little gee-gaws as prizes.

Norwood patrolmen, acting on a statement by Police Lt. Harry Schlie, confiscated 22 gumball machines Thursday from 17 grocery and delicatessen stores in the suburb. No arrests were made. It seems school kids have been frittering away their lunch money to win the trinkets.

Seal Campaign Here Draws Strong Support

Pickaway County's Easter Seal campaign is setting an example for other Ohio counties.

Leaders of the drive here Friday said total contributions are already close to the average based on statewide figures in past years.

On the basis of the number of appeals sent through the mail here, Pickaway County's quota—if one had been set—would have been approximately $1,215. Contributions already on hand amount to more than $1,010.

Campaign workers pointed out this is all the more impressive since the drive, held to raise funds for the care of crippled children and special adult cases, has two weeks to go. Prior to Easter Sunday, workers hope an additional number of county residents will mail in replies to the appeal letters.

Cops Hold Pair For 'Rolling' Man

Circleville police Friday were holding two men for investigation of allegedly "rolling" another man for $30 Thursday afternoon in a W. Main St. cafe.

The men, ages 32 and 43, were taken into custody near Clarksburg by Deputy Clark White and Dwight Radcliff, son of Sheriff Charles Radcliff, on affidavits filed in the city.

Authorities said the men were traced by the license number of the auto in which they were riding. Preliminary action against the pair was to have been held Friday afternoon.

School Honor Unit Schedules Banquet

Plans were announced Friday for the annual Pickaway County Honor Society banquet, to be held in Pickaway Township school at 6:30 p. m. April 10.

Pickaway County Superintendent George D. McDowell said faculty members from county schools and both active and new members of the Society will attend.

He emphasized the meeting will also be open to graduate members of the Society, an organization in which average high school grades is the chief requirement for membership. New members are now being "tapped" in the county school system.

Wet Welcome Awaits Spring

CHICAGO (AP)—A wet welcome appeared in prospect over wide areas of the country for the official arrival of spring at 5:01 p. m. today. It also was a little cool in some sections.

Chilly, cloudy weather was reported in the northeastern states with snow flurries and showers in parts of New England.

Rain fell along the Pacific coast as far south as Los Angeles and snow mixed with rain hit areas in the Rocky Mountain region. The western storm center moved eastward and rain was in prospect for the North Central region.

Presented by Dr. B. B. Eran, president of the association, the award read: "For meritorious services and invaluable cooperation during the 24th annual convention held in Manila from December 3 to 7, 1952, thereby contributing to the efforts of this country's national organization of dentists in raising the standards of dentistry in the Philippines."

Maj. Louis is a graduate of the Ohio State University college of dentistry. He served as a bombardier and radar observer during World War II and re-entered the service in 1949 as a dental officer.

His previous stations included MacDill AFB, Fla., McChord AFB, Washington, and Rapid City AFB, South Dakota.

Man, His Own Greatest Enemy, Now Driving Self Into Ground

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—In the new atomic age the mole is safe. The test in the Nevada Desert proved that.
Man's greatest enemy always has been himself. From the dawn of time the weapons he created to kill lesser animals, either for food or in self-defense, also were used to war against his fellow men.

The club, spear, bow and arrow, rifle . . . they all served this dual purpose.
Each new weapon he invented gave him a greater edge over all four-footed creatures. To survive they had to dig deeper in the earth, plunge farther into the wilds, until at last man, who had destroyed them for his own nourishment or safety, came to hunt them for sport.
He made a fugitive of every form of life that wouldn't become his pet.
Now man, with his atom bomb, has made a fugitive of himself and he is a vulnerable fugitive, huddled in vast herds in vast cities, as vulnerable as the old buffalo herds that once blackened the plains.

It was a small atom bomb they used in Nevada this week, not as large as the ones dropped on Japan, only a tenth as large as some bombs in the American armory, and perhaps the Russian armory, too.

But this bomb set trees on fire a mile away, broke the joints and smashed the windows of a modern concrete and wooden house nearly a mile and a half distant.

Such a baby bomb, a deadly baby bomb, can now be fired in an artillery shell. If Hitler had it during the aerial battle of Britain, the British would be slaves today. If Hitler had it when he attacked Russia, the Nazi banner would probably be flying over a

'Voice' Aides Point Finger At Bowles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two "Voice of America" officials told Senate investigators today they were urged last year by Chester Bowles, then ambassador to India, to "tone down" anti-Communist propaganda broadcasts to that troubled nation.

The testimony came from Gerald Doohar, acting chief of the Voice's service in the Middle East, Africa and Asia, and Stanley S. Ghosh, chief of its India desk. Doohar said a memorandum dated last June confirmed Bowles "urged that we refrain from anti-Communist—I believe the word was to refrain from undue emphasis on anti-Communist propaganda."

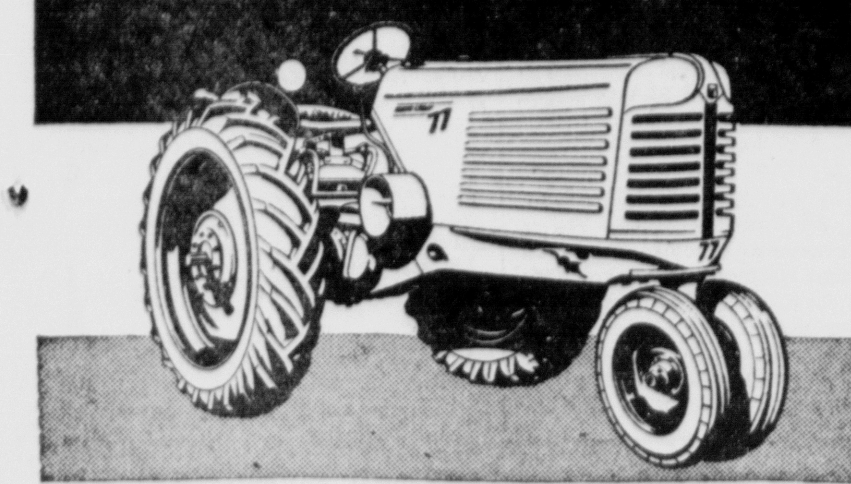

The two witnesses went before the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). The group has been hunting for alleged waste and subversion in the State Department's Voice program.
Ghosh said he refused to comply with the directive and "had no qualms" because he believed it was unsound.

Relief Roll Publication Bill Studied

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A bill to make Ohio public assistance rolls public started on its way through the Legislature today when its author explained it to the Senate Finance Committee in its first hearing.

Committee members made numerous suggestions to Sen. Ross Pepple (R-Allen) for technical changes in his proposed law, but no witnesses appeared in opposition.

Sen. Ray Hildebrand (R-Lucas) brought to the committee's attention the opposition of the Ohio Lutheran Council.

Pepple said his bill, which carries a Republican policy tag in a GOP - controlled Legislature, is patterned after the Indiana law. That law created a stir a couple of years ago when the federal assistance authorities withheld federal funds from Indiana for a time.

But an amendment to a federal appropriations act by Sen. Jenner (R-Indiana) prohibited the federal government from withholding funds from a state for making public its assistance rolls with proper safeguards.

Pepple said the Indiana law and similar acts in other states has brought about a substantial drop in assistance rolls. He explained: "They dropped without any policing—they just dropped."

Pepple added: "It is not the money alone I'm worried about. I'm more concerned about the breakdown of the moral fiber in our people who seem more and more inclined to be willing to accept something for nothing."

Farmers Told Sudan Grass Can Save Them Money

Building a good, season-long pasture supply is like building a winning baseball team.

You've got to have reliable substitutes when some of your regulars are out of the line up.

Seeding a few acres of Sudan grass late this Spring can provide pinch-hitting pasture to help through emergencies this Summer when hot weather dries up bluegrass in July and August.

Such substitute forage can prevent a drop in milk production or a loss of weight in beef cattle. It can save money by eliminating the cost of feeding more grain.

A GOOD Sudan pasture stand should be built on a foundation of high soil fertility. Adding nitrogen, phosphate and potash will assure abundant pasture. Sudan needs plenty of nutrients to make thick, high yielding growth.

Sudan grass can be seeded any time through early June. A grain drill or broadcast seeder may be used, set at the rate of 30 to 35 pounds of seed per acre.

Agronomists advise keeping the stock off sweet Sudan until it is at least 18 inches high to guard against prussic acid poisoning. They recommend, too, that cattle be taken off pasture for three or four days when new growth starts after a long drought or light frost.

Ed Wallace Submits 2 New Bills

Pickaway County Representative Ed Wallace has introduced two more bills this week before the Ohio House of Representatives.

First of the bills was a measure designed to make available certain state lands in Pickaway County for private purchase.

The bill, also submitted last year by Wallace, is designed to free a tract of land from the Orient State School for public bidding. The move is to free the land for expansion of the Belt Corp. at Orient.

Second measure submitted this week by Wallace was for the licensing, sanitation, labeling and regulation of commercial canneries.

In addition, a bill previously submitted by Wallace seeking to increase taxes on pari-mutuel race betting has passed the House by a margin of 114 to 12. The bill is expected to increase the state's "take" on betting by $3 million.

Township Clerks Underpay Selves

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A state examiner's report shows several township clerks in Licking and Vinton Counties underpaid themselves.

In Licking County Etna Twp., owed Clerk Harry Smoke $338 in unpaid compensation; Franklin Twp. owed Clerk C. L. Dusthimer $376, and Jersey Twp., owed Clerk H. D. Dickerson $132. Other townships owed their clerks smaller amounts.

Reports showed some clerks in Vinton County had paid themselves the usual $350 annual salary but had failed to add a 2 per cent statutory allowance on all township expenditures in excess of $5,000 a year.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes today returned findings for recovery against the townships.

MALENKOV ON THE SPOT

IT IS GENERALLY assumed Stalin made arrangements for what he hoped would be an orderly succession at the Communist party congress last October, hoping to avoid this time the bitter and disturbing struggles that marked his own rise to power.

The succession may indeed be orderly, but it seems unlikely that Malenkov, the heir, will be able to consolidate his authority without bloodshed. Dictators are created by the law of the jungle. Without unquestioned preeminence they can neither rule nor live. The law of self-preservation joins the imperatives of politics to force a fight with all those who might become potential rivals to the death.

History offers few examples of the successful transfer of absolute power. The reasons are readily apparent. The tyrant arises out of the chaotic conditions of revolution or political decay and at first satisfies the desperate social need for order. His successor has no such need to answer and therefore no spontaneous support among the people.

The dictator, furthermore, cannot afford to groom his successor publicly lest the successor be tempted to jump the gun. Thus he has no chance to establish himself in the public consciousness or, more importantly, in the consciousness of the bureaucracy and the army as the chosen son.

These are problems that clearly face the new Russian tyrant. But they do not necessarily offer hope for the free world, for history contains no exact parallel to the Russian situation.

The world's tyrants for the most part have been driven from their first days in power into military adventures. In the long view it has been defeat in battle together with the demoralization of their own lands under prolonged militarism that crumbled their empires and made their power non-transferable.

Although the Soviet Union seems now to be steering down that path, it does not appear to have reached the point where external pressures and internal strains fore-shadow collapse, and where, the "masters of a ravished world are apt, like the Killenny cats, to perform 'the friendly office' for one another."

Former President Truman has been appointed a life member of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Blacksmiths, Iron Shipbuilders, Drop Forgers and Helpers. Harry, presumably, is the helper.

If the politicians fail him, the farmer can fall back on the assurance that the earthworm is still his best friend.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON, March 20—Despite congressional Democrats' professed admiration and liking for President Eisenhower, a restless minority of the so-called Truman faction are eager to swing into action against the new administration.

Many members of this group, which consists largely of "northern liberals," must face the voters next year in the off-elections. Their erstwhile urban supporters, particularly labor, racial and certain colored elements, voted Republican last November. Thus, these politicians feel, naturally enough, that they must provoke a controversy with the White House on several major issues.

The question was raised several times during recent conferences with National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell. He favors the idea, but he is handicapped by the injunction of Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 nominee and titular leader, that the opposition must conduct itself "for the best interests of the national welfare."

INTENTIONS—So far, however, these Democrats are completely frustrated in their search for questions on which they can pick a fight with Ike. And their predicament is not due only to the fact that he has not had sufficient time to implement his program or promises.

If there were four key issues in the campaign which produced the Eisenhower triumph, they were the war in Korea, the Communist influence at Washington, excessive taxes and unbalanced budgets, all of which figured in the winning slogan: "It is time for a change."

Save for aggressive action against the Reds in government, Eisenhower has not been able to solve any of these problems. But none of these difficulties is susceptible of overnight solution without the adoption of more unpopular and dangerous policies. And the Democrats do not care to incur the charge of forcing these dubious alternatives on the administration.

PROBLEMS—President Eisenhower, for instance, cannot "end the Korean War" without enlarging the area of conflict and

These Days

If there is anything that few know much about, it is atomic energy and what is being done by the Atomic Energy Commission. If there is anything that nobody, in or out of the government, can know anything about, it is what the future of the use of atomic energy can be, what changes will be wrought in our society because of it, what wonders research in this field will ultimately produce.

This subject ordinarily would be discussed openly in universities and in Congress. But we are at war. The enemy has already stolen some of our achievements in this field and is ready to steal everything we do. The perils, but not the benefits, of atomic fission are immediately upon us. Therefore, the very great secrecy is essential.

And it is because of this secrecy that the American people perhaps forget that there is an Atomic Energy Commission; that it is engaged in a great work of research in the use of fissionable materials in peace as well as war, for healing as well as destruction; that it is stockpiling the atom and hydrogen bombs for our defense.

The present Administration is looking for ways to save money and there are thousands of holes in the sieve called government that can be plugged up. Best opinion in Washington is that the Pentagon is probably the agency for the greatest waste.

But no one can actually know whether there is or is not waste in the work of the Atomic Energy Commission. Who is to place a limitation on the stockpiling of bombs? Who can know how many we shall have to use if the enemy attacks our country? There is no longer a shortage of fissionable materials; yet there are some who suggest that this would be a good time to stop stockpiling. Can anyone guarantee that there will be no shortage should war occur, despite the fact that most of the ores come from the Belgian Congo and Northwest Canada? We can be cut off from the source of supply.

Again, we must face the fact that the next war will not be fought as World War II was fought, just as World War II was not fought as World War I was fought. The existence of the atom bomb, of guided missiles, of the schnorkel and the atom-driven submarine, of supersonic airplanes and the widespread use of radar, and of many applications of electronics, have changed the techniques of warfare. The foot soldier, the ideal fighting force of the Pentagon, will probably become a small occupying and police force in the wars of the future, just as the horse cavalry began to disappear at the time when Herbert Hoover was President and General Douglas MacArthur was his Chief of Staff.

Therefore, when the Bureau of the Budget seeks to save money, let it keep its hands off the Atomic Energy Commission. That is one place where it is not safe, while we are actually at war, to make severe cuts. It would be safer to eliminate the expensive committee system in vogue in the Pentagon, a system which wastes time and money and gives the top brass and the governing civilians an alibi for avoiding direct responsibility. Group responsibility is expensive and confusing. This system was introduced by General George Marshall and can be discarded without any great loss.

Glandular Fever Is Puzzling And May Mimic Other Disease

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SWOLLEN glands in the neck are often a cause of alarm to people who think they may be a sign of the mumps. But on examination, a physician often finds that the person has what is called glandular fever. This condition is known as infectious mononucleosis and is more prevalent than previously thought.

This is a common infectious disease that occurs usually in young adults and children. One of my own youngsters had it not so long ago. The exact cause is not as yet known; however, it is believed to be caused by a virus, and only too often it resembles a number of other diseases.

May Take a Month

In my own youngster, it started in less than a week after an exposure to the infection in a playmate. However, it may take a month in some cases before the person really feels ill.

Usually, the disease starts with a high fever—from 101 to 104 degrees—which may last for as long as a week or two. The person often complains of headache and chills and may sweat and feel dizzy when he has fever.

When this disease occurs in epidemics, and it often does, a number of the patients may not have any fever at all.

Glands Enlarged

Usually the lymph glands become enlarged early in the disease. The glands in the neck are most often affected.

In most cases, this enlargement begins at the same time as the fever. The lymph glands are very tender. Sometimes the neck is so tender that it is almost rigid, and the condition resembles meningitis or spinal fever.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE
CAROL tiptoed across the room to the kitchenette, shut the door, and started to prepare supper. Queer to think this was the first time she'd cooked for Jason, but it was nice.

Her hands must have been unsteady, for in reaching up to one of the top shelves, she knocked down a jar of strawberry jam. It fell to the floor with a resounding crash; the glass container broke and the jam spilled over the floor.

"Oh, heck," she said aloud. She was down on her knees wiping it up, when the door opened and Jason put his head through.

"Hello, darling! Doing the chores?" he said cheerfully. "But if you must knock something down off the shelf, why choose a jam pot?"

She leaned back on her heels and laughed. She wasn't exactly sure why she was laughing, other than it was good to see him standing there talking to her in this perfectly normal way. For the moment, she thrust all her fears into the back of her mind. She felt unreasonably, absurdly happy.

"It is a bit of a mess, I'm sorry if the crash awakened you." "I'm sorry I fell asleep in your apartment, but I felt rather done in when I got here. Hope you didn't mind my blurring the janitor into letting me in, but I didn't feel like hanging around in the hall." He was smiling but, looking up at him, she noticed that the smile was strained. The bump on his temple looked ugly.

She said mockingly, "It's nice to know I have a brother over here." "I thought a brother was less obvious than a cousin," he commented.

"You couldn't have been just a boy friend?" His smile slanted. "I was thinking of your reputation, darling." Again she didn't mind the "darling." He hadn't meant it, but still she didn't mind.

She had finished mopping up the jam and had got to her feet. There were a hundred questions she wanted to ask him, but she decided they'd better eat first. He looked as though he could do with a meal.

She had hamburgers, baked beans, and a large salad. "This looks good," he said. "When did you eat last?"

He grimaced. "Yesterday sometime." She waited until he had eaten; then she could no longer keep the question back. "Where have you been, Jason?"

He put his knife and fork down. "It's quite a story, Carol." "Julie came into the store before we closed. She said you'd disappeared with the Jaguar."

"She thought I'd pinched the Jaguar?" He looked amused. "I don't think she cared about the Jaguar. She was worried about you."

"Bless her heart. She's a grand little person," he said quietly. She felt a stab of jealousy. Julie had said today she'd fallen in love with Jason. How did Jason feel? Had this past week of close companionship with Julie turned the friendship he'd felt for her into something deeper? "She thought you might have met with an accident." "I did, in a way." He grinned unhumorously. "I left her car in the garage and thumbed a ride here," he added.

"You didn't see Julie?" "She wasn't in." "You left a note?" He hesitated. "I thought a note might be intercepted. I don't want to get her into trouble. She has enough to put up with, without the additional worry of having me hanging around." His voice was grim.

"You're not going back there?" He shook his head. "It wouldn't be safe for her. I don't mean her husband. He's too crazy about her to do her any harm."

"Jason, what are you going to do?" She pushed her plate aside. "I don't think it's safe for you to stay around here. Julie said it wasn't. What gave you that bump on your forehead?"

He grimaced. "I'll tell you, though it sounds fantastic. Fantastic and rather horrible." He paused briefly. "After that little dust-up with Maxie, I decided I'd better keep clear until the party broke up. Frankly, I hadn't wanted to force an issue so soon."

"You knocked him down because of what he said to me?" His grin twisted. "The big hero. Don't get any romantic illusions about me, my dear. It's just that I've got a rather devilish temper. I was still in a rage when I took the car out and decided to drive down to Hollywood—that's a resort on the other side of Fort Lauderdale near the big race track—where, Julie told me the other night, Maxie has a house. I thought I'd have a look around. It seemed fairly safe, since Maxie was at the barbecue and Julie said he was leaving afterwards for Jacksonville."

"It's quite a place, Hollywood, newly developed with a mammoth luxury hotel on the beach that dominates the whole scene. I asked the doorman where Maxie Rosen-thal lived. Directly I mentioned Maxie's name, his manner became almost servile. The house was some way out of town, closed in by high walls. I noticed as I drove up that it was shuttered and the gates locked. I figured out, it being Sunday, whatever servants Maxie kept might have taken the day off. I parked the car in a grove of palm trees some distance down the road, took a few tools out of the kit, and went back to reconnoiter. I found a place at the back where I could scale the wall. The house looked more like an ornate prison than a private dwelling; all the downstairs windows were barred. I don't know what got into me, but I thought I'd get inside if I could. First, I took the precaution of ringing the backdoor bell just to make sure the coast was clear. I don't know what excuse I'd have given had someone come, but no one did. I had another walk around and saw that a door at the side didn't look quite as heavily constructed as the others. I'm not exactly a skilled hand at house-breaking," he smiled fleetingly, but somehow I managed to force the lock and get inside. "I was moving about as quietly as possible, when I heard a noise. I swung around sharply. There was a small man in a wheel chair. I suppose the rubber on the wheels had made his approach noiseless. I had a hard time not crying out, for he was a horrible sight. His face was scarred so badly that some of the features were obliterated and he had scarcely any hair. I noticed a heavy stick lying across his knees. I moved back sharply, waiting for him to ask me what I was doing there. But—and this is the mad part, Carol—he bowed low and said with great cordiality, 'Welcome, Mr. President.'"

"He said 'Welcome, Mr. President'?" Carol gasped. Jason nodded. "I thought he must be kidding me. I didn't say anything, and he went on: 'I'm glad you've come, Mr. President, but after those letters I wrote you I knew your letter.'"

"I decided that the cripple in the chair must be bats. Naturally I came in answer to your letters," I muttered.

"He leaned forward and said in a hoarse, eager voice, 'You'll get me out of here, Mr. President? They say I'm mad, but I'm as sane as you are, sinner I bet.' He chuckled. 'Who says you're mad?' I asked him. A crafty look came over what was left of his face. He says so, and the other believe him. He keeps me down here locked up. That's why I thought of writing to you. You see, he paused, 'I want to see her. Whom do you want to see?' I asked, 'Her, my wife.' And then, incredibly, I saw tears running down that grotesque face. I moved forward. 'I'm awfully sorry about all this,' I said, feeling my way. 'Perhaps I could help you.' But of course you can," he rapped out. "You are the President of the United States." "Well, . . . I began awkwardly. 'Anyway, I'd like to help you if I can,' I ended."

Jason paused. He took a cigarette out of a package in his pocket and lit it slowly. "I don't know what made me step forward at that point, but I did and came within range of his stick. He was pretty quick with it. As he crashed it against my temples, I heard him give a hoarse, gleeful laugh. That's all I knew until sometime around noon today. I was lying in the same grove of palms where I'd parked the car. My head was throbbing and I felt sick, but I managed to get to my feet and to the car. There was a typewritten note on the steering wheel."

He handed her a crumpled sheet of paper. The message was typewritten. It read: Let this be a warning. Next time you won't be so lucky. Carol stared down at the note. "Jason, I'm afraid . . ." she whispered. Her voice broke sharply.

He took the paper from her and put it back into his pocket. Then he took both her hands in his and said gently, "Don't worry, darling. I'm not going to join the angels if I can avoid it. But," he grinned across at her, "it's sweet of you to worry."

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on the fuss within the Republican party over the budget and the chances of cutting taxes.

President Truman on Jan. 9 sent to Congress his budget, or estimate of government expenses, for the fiscal year starting July 1. The budget: $78,600,000,000. Estimated revenue, from income taxes, corporation taxes, and other sources: $68,700,000,000.

This meant government expenses would exceed government revenue by $9,900,000,000, a deficit of almost 10 billions. A 10 billion dollar deficit would boost the national debt, now running at $267,400,000,000, even higher.

Some Republican congressmen announced at once, without time to examine all the itemized figures Truman gave them, that they could cut the budget as much as 10 or 12 billion dollars.

It would be nice if they could. That would really balance the budget.

The question was: How? Where would the cuts be made? Of the total $78,600,000,000 Truman budget, about 87 per cent, or $68,300,000,000 would be for paying off interest on the national debt, for veterans payments, and for national defense and foreign aid.

Nothing could be cut off the interest on the debt. That's fixed. Nothing could be taken from the veterans. That would be bad politics. How could cuts be made in defense and foreign aid without endangering the country?

Well, maybe President Eisenhower could solve it when he took over Jan. 2. During the campaign he had spoken often about all the government waste that could be cut out.

Right after he took office he said eliminating that $9,900,000,000 deficit would be the "first order of business." He's been looking for ways to do it ever since.

Still, some of his Republicans in Congress were hot for cutting taxes. He knew that any tax cut, which meant a cut in government revenue, would make it just that tougher to balance the budget.

So at his first White House news conference Feb. 17 he said the government couldn't afford to cut taxes until it had in sight a spending program which balanced income and outgo.

That didn't stop a veteran House Republican, Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York, who is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which handles all tax problems for the House. He wanted a tax cut, and soon.

Reed and his committee voted to cut individual income taxes 10 per cent. When would it start? When the budget was balanced? Not necessarily. July 1, when that new budget, which might exceed revenue, would go into effect.

This needs explaining: Under present law the excess profits tax on business will expire July 1, unless Congress votes to extend it. And, under present law, the income tax in individuals is scheduled to drop 10 per cent, starting Jan. 1.

Reed argued: If it's fair to drop

Ike Against Any Ceiling On Tax Rates

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—President Eisenhower today told an Ohio state senator he regrets he "cannot concur in the current proposals for a constitutional amendment to place a ceiling on tax rates."

His comment on a drive in state legislature to ask Congress to limit federal income and inheritance taxes to 25 per cent was made in a letter received today by Sen. Anthony J. Celebrezze, a Cleveland Democrat.

The President's letter was in response to an inquiry Celebrezze made of him last Feb. 6. Eisenhower declared:

"Although I fully share the universal desire to reduce tax burdens and am exerting every effort to cut back expenditures to secure tax reduction within a balanced budget, the proposed constitutional limitation on tax rates would endanger the country's financial structure."

State Sen. David Mck. Ferguson, Cambridge Republican and author of a tax limit resolution pending in the Ohio Legislature, said he was not dismayed by presidential opposition. After reading a copy of the Eisenhower letter, he commented:

"You can say I believe the President's views on the matter are taken from the thinking of Tom Dewey (New York governor) the Chase National Bank and the international money crowd."

Sen. Ferguson indicated he still favors an attempt to get the Ohio Legislature to pass the resolution. The Republican - controlled Ohio Senate defeated a similar Ferguson resolution two years ago by a single vote.

the excess profits tax on business July 1, then it's only fair to move up that 10 per cent income tax on individuals from Jan. 1 to July 1, too.

Together the end of the excess profits tax and Reed's 10 per cent drop in income tax would mean a total loss of revenue to the government of $4,300,000,000.

Eisenhower's position is: We can't cut government revenue before we can cut government expenses down to a point where they match the revenue. He said that again yesterday.

He not only didn't want Reed monkeying around with a tax cut but said that if Congress lets the excess profits tax expire July 1, he wants it to pass some other kind of tax to make up the loss.

This might indicate he won't want income taxes dropped Jan. 1, either. So Eisenhower, who talked freely during the campaign about cutting expenses, is finding it's easier said than done.

Ex-Actress Is Held In Morals Case

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Former actress Dorothy Comingore has pleaded innocent and asked for a jury trial on charges of prostitution.

Miss Comingore, 40, was arrested by sheriff's vice squad officers yesterday. They said they picked her up at a bar and that she suggested: "Let's find a dark place to go."

The actress, who co-starred 13 years ago with Orson Welles in "Citizen Kane," commented: "Even if I had left my head at home I wouldn't have said a thing like that. This is all a part of my being an 'unfriendly witness.'" writer Richard Collins. She declined at that time to say whether she was a member of the Communist party, saying she is "a loyal American."

Collins had renounced communism two years before and appeared as a friendly witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee. Last Oct. 6 Miss Comingore appeared before that committee in Los Angeles and refused to answer questions about party affiliations.

JUDAS ISCARIOT AGREES TO BETRAY HIS MASTER

Scripture—Matthew 26.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THE EPISODES related in today's lesson are heartbreaking from a human point of view. Jesus' knowledge of His impending arrest, trial and painful death; and His knowledge also that one of His disciples would betray Him to His enemies; how it must have torn His sensitive heart, even as it would that of a mere mortal.

The impossibility of making His close companions acquainted with what was so soon to happen must also have been a great grief. He had spoken of it often to them, but while they had seemed to understand it at certain times, it evidently had not entered deeply into their consciousness. They apparently "lost no sleep over it," as we say.

After the Lord's sayings in our last lesson He again told His disciples that in two days the feast of the Passover would be celebrated and then He would be betrayed to be crucified. It was then that the chief priests, the scribes and elders of the people went to the high priest's palace to consult as to how they might destroy Him.

The high priest's name was Caiaphas. They must not take Him on the feast day, he said, "lest there be an uproar among the people."

In the meantime Jesus went to

Bethany, to the home of Simon the leper. There a woman came to him, with an alabaster box of precious ointment in her hand. This she poured over the Master's head. The disciples considered this a great waste. They could have sold the ointment and used the money to feed the poor.

Jesus said, "Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon Me.

"For ye have the poor always with you; but Me ye have not always. For in that she hath poured this ointment on My body, she did it for My burial."

In the Nazi regime in Germany and now in the Soviet Union the people are urged to report to the authorities anyone whom they suspect of any disloyalty to the government—even members of their own families—their nearest and dearest companions and friends.

How could Judas Iscariot who had been with the Christ in daily communication; who had seen His compassion for the suffering and sinners, had witnessed His miracles of healing and His teachings of love, turn against Him and betray Him to those who were thirsting for His death?

Judas went to these scheming church authorities and asked them what they would give him if he delivered Jesus to them. They agreed to give him 30 pieces of silver—the price of a slave. "And from that time he sought

4 powerful reasons why you get more of what you want...

1953 Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks

do more work for less money!

Here are a few things we think are worthy of your consideration before you buy any truck.

In 1953, Chevrolet trucks are more rugged, have huskier and more rigid construction than ever in the past. This means longer truck life and lower over-all costs to you.

You'll find the increased horsepower and higher compression ratio (7.1 to 1) of the big advanced 108-h.p. Loadmaster engines in heavy-duty models bring you greater power (200 ft. lbs. of torque), and greater performance, greater ability to do the job. You'll find that means faster acceleration, greater ability to climb the steepest grades. And you'll find a wonderful gain in gasoline mileage, too!

As any owner of a 1953 Chevrolet truck knows, these are the sturdiest, most powerful trucks Chevrolet has ever built. Yet with all the wonderful advantages they offer, they list for less than any other trucks of comparable capacity and specifications.

Before you buy, drop in at our showroom and talk things over. Let us show you how Chevrolet trucks do more work for you, and for less money, too!

Ward's, Top Hat Pacing Men's Loops; Women's League Is Tight

Substantial leads have been piled up by Top Hat and Ward's Market keglers respectively in the Monday and Wednesday men's bowling leagues in Circleville.

But competition is keen for the top honors in the Tuesday Women's League, with Kinsey's and Top Hat racing neck and neck for the finish wire.

In the Women's League, Kinsey's lead by a four-game margin with a record of 66 wins in 84 tests; while Top Hat threatens the lead with 64 wins in 84 games.

In the six-team Monday league, Top Hat keglers dominate the loop with 62 victories in 84 games to date, with Butch's Jewelers and Palm's Carry-out ranking in a tie for second with 44 wins each in 84 games.

THE MARGIN is equally well-defined in the 12-team Wednesday men's league also, with Ward's in the top slot with 59 wins in 75 games and Basic keglers in second spot with only 45 wins in 75 games.

Top individual bowlers in men's league competition are Art McGran, Manley Smith, Dave Olney and Bob Morgan.

Only 13 Hopefuls Answer Call For 1953 Track Squad

A meagre list of only 13 candidates have answered the call for Circleville High School's 1953 track season.

Coach Tom Bennett said only two of last year's veteran cindermen have returned this season.

They are Jim Leist, distance runner, and George Troutman, specializing in the weights.

Other applicants for varsity track berths this season are Joe Hill, Jay Curry, Charles Camp, Rollie Tigner, Gene Stonerock, George Kerr, Dave Greeno, Dave Bircher, Carl Martin, Jim Phillips and Gary McKenzie. Ken Crawford is manager for the small squad.

FIRST CONTEST facing the Tiger tracksters this season will be a triangular meet April 8 at Upper Arlington with Washington C. H.

All of the CHS track meets this year are to be held "away," Bennett said, because of the lack of facilities here.

Complete schedule of meets for the Tiger cindermen this season is as follows:

- April 8—At Arlington with Washington.
- April 14—At Chillicothe with Greenfield.
- April 16—At Washington.
- April 21—At Lancaster.
- April 24—At Wilmington.
- April 27—At Greenfield with Hillsboro.
- April 30—At Westerville.
- May 6—SCO League meet (with Washington, Greenfield, Hillsboro and Wilmington).
- May 12—Arlington Relays.

National AAU Cage Tourney In Semifinals

DENVER — Three Pacific Coast clubs and the defending champion Peoria, Ill., Diesel Cats scrambled through to victory Thursday night in pressure-filled quarterfinal games of the 46th national AAU basketball tournament.

Tonight's semifinals match the champion Cats against a crew of keepaway artists from San Diego, Calif., and the Cinderella team of Oregon Collegians from Eugene against the silk-smooth Los Alamitos Naval Air Station team of Long Beach, Calif.

Missing from the semifinals for the first time in 15 years are the Phillips 66ers of Bartlesville, Okla. They were sidelined in the second round, 65-52, by the Everybody's Drug team from Eugene, Ore.

Peoria's Cats needed all the savvy they could muster to subdue the Houston Oilers, 61-57.

The San Diego team, representing Grisham Motors, turned back the Quantico, Va., Marines, 63-55, on a fine individual performance by Jim Hoverder, who canned 22 points.

The San Diego club played keep-away during the final minutes and completely upset the younger servicemen. The score was tied four times in the second period and the Marines held a 38-37 lead midway of the third period before the Californians pulled away.

NEW YORK (P)—New York University, which dropped football last week, had a marble team today, but it was imaginary.

The Heights Daily News, one of the university's undergraduate newspapers, began a series of articles on an imaginary marble team which is supposed to replace the football team.

The first article said 120 students had turned out for the team and that one of the opponents will be the New York Institute for the Investigation of Rolling Spheroids.

The News, needless to say, is bitter at the action of the university in dropping football.

Ralph (Tiger) Jones, no relation to Bobby, but the Tiger wasn't awed by Bratton's reputation and all but chased him out of the ring to provide an upset. The 10 p. m. ET 10 rounder will be broadcast and telecast.

NEW YORK (P)—Johnny Bratton is a 3 to 1 choice to even his score with the Jones boys tonight when he faces middleweight Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif., in Madison Square Garden.

Last December jolting Johnny of Chicago was a 4 to 1 shot to whip

Redlegs Starting Out As 'Spoiler'

TAMPA, Fla. (P)—The Cincinnati Reds, who sometimes delight in the role of "spoilers" during the regular season, have started up their old tricks in the spring training season.

They whipped the spanking-new Milwaukee Braves (nee the Boston Braves) 4-3 Thursday.

It was the Redlegs' fifth straight triumph in the Grapefruit League. Shortstop Roy McMillan and outfielder Willard Marshall, the first youngster and the latter a tried-and-tested veteran, each knocked in a run on a booming triple.

Sokolsky's These Days

But it would be foolhardy to make cuts in the work of the Atomic Energy Commission, particularly in relation to its researches.

Often an Administration, seeking to avoid unpopularity, makes its cuts in obscure agencies, thus averting a quarrel with members of Congress who served vested interests in the expenditures.

Every citizen has a vested interest in the work of the Atomic Energy Commission, because each of our lives and the lives of our children are dependent upon the work of this agency of government.

There is no private activity in this field; it is a government monopoly. Congress can keep it strong or reduce it to a sterile bureau of the Administration. The Pentagon can take it over with the consent of Congress, and make it a soft-ball of interservice politics.

This should be watched closely at this moment when the Bureau of the Budget is looking for something to lop off the government payroll.

Hospital Day To Be May 3 In Chillicothe

Worship Rites To Be Feature Of Observance

Outstanding Men Of Religion To Be Heard In Early Rites

Disabled veterans and visitors will join in religious worship on Hospital Day May 3 in Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital.

Since religion plays an important part in the rehabilitation of veterans — providing spiritual guidance, social service, counseling and other aid throughout the year—outstanding men have been secured to represent the three major faiths on Hospital Day.

Most Reverend John King Musio, D.D., Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Steubenville, will offer Mass in the Catholic service in the recreation hall at 8:30 a. m.

The Rev. Otto Ebert, D.D., president of the Ohio District of the American Lutheran church, will be guest speaker in the Protestant service to be held on the athletic field at 10 a. m.

RABBI NATHAN Zelizer, of Temple Tifereth Israel, Columbus, will direct the Jewish service in the chapel at 10 a. m.

These three men have long been interested in veterans affairs and have outstanding records of public service.

Since assuming charge of the Steubenville Diocese in 1944, Bishop Musio has established six new parishes, formed four new elementary schools, built two new Central High Schools, established a seminary, and was instrumental in founding the College of Steubenville and the Diocese newspaper, The Steubenville Register.

He has evidenced a sincere interest in veterans affairs through special weekly Masses for service men, the issuance of a news bulletin for them, and the release of several of his priests for service as chaplains in the Armed Forces. The Bishop has addressed veteran throngs throughout Ohio and is no stranger to Chillicothe, on various occasions having visited the community in his capacity as Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati.

The Reverend Otto Ebert, who started his ministry in a little coal-mining town near Pittsburgh, Pa., served in Christ Lutheran church in Bexley from 1930 to 1949, at which time he concluded his pastorate to accept the post of president of the Ohio District of the American Lutheran Church.

He served as chaplain for the House of Representatives, State of Ohio, during the Ninety-first and the Ninety-second General Assemblies. He has served on the Board of American Missions, of which he was chairman for five years, and on numerous intersynodical commissions.

His home is in Bexley, and he maintains the office of the District in the Wartburg Building, Columbus, where the general offices of the American Lutheran Church are located.

RABBI ZELIZER has been Rabbi of Temple Tifereth Israel, Columbus, since 1931. He is president of the Columbus Recreation commission, a member of the Franklin County Area Rent Advisory Board, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Franklin County Council of Churches.

Canberra Jet Falls; 2 Killed

AINSBOROUGH, England (AP)—Two British airmen died last night in the crash of a speedy Canberra jet bomber, returning from a mock war raid over West Germany. It was the first fatality in four days of the Exercise Jungle King—the biggest air maneuvers of its kind since World War II.

The two-engine bomber plunged to the ground and exploded just three miles short of its home base here. Another Canberra set a record last fall by flying across the Atlantic and back in one day.

In World War II he served as chaplain in the Pacific and in Japan. He has also served as Chaplain at various state institutions and at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital. He is a member of the Steering Committee of Services to Old Age Groups, Council of Social Agencies, Columbus. And he was selected by the Columbus Citizen as one of the ten most outstanding citizens of Columbus during 1952.

The public is invited to visit the Veterans Administration Hospital and hear these outstanding men. Since 1946, public attendance at the Hospital Day religious services has increased each year, and plans are being made to accommodate a large turnout on May 3.

Executives See Prosperity As Continuing

More Confidence Being Heard From Business Leaders

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Business once more is pushing back the deadline for the slump. More executives now look for prosperity to hold all through the year.

The switch to confidence by many industrialists and financiers who earlier had been doubtful about the last half of 1953 is not shared by all. But it appears to be growing.

Among reasons for the new optimism:

Belief that world tension will keep this country's defense spending high — might even send it higher. Defense industries will continue to flourish.

Belief that consumers are going to keep on spending — much more important to the economy than defense spending.

Signs that profits right now are running higher than a year ago—they've been picking up since last summer.

A steady increase in confident statements by business leaders discounting earlier fears of a let-down late this year.

And, a seeming paradox: The caution which many businessmen are showing. This caution in handling inventories, purchasing policies, and financing breeds confidence this way: It reassures many observers that businessmen aren't climbing out on a limb as they did in the late twenties, thus lessening any threat of a sharp, snowballing break.

The auto industry is a leader in the parade of optimism — as it usually is. It expects to sell more cars this year, even if more of them will be on the cuff.

Tire makers are counting on a 15 per cent gain in replacement sales this year, and on selling more original equipment tires to the auto makers. Tire stocks are being built up on this confidence, and are now reported 40 per cent above last year.

More new homes are being started now than at this time last year.

The real judge, however, is the consumer. He'll decide what kind of a year it is, most businessmen agree.

And the consumer is more confident than a year ago, the Federal Reserve Board reports today. His debt total has climbed to almost 24 billion dollars but it does not seem to worry him.

Riffle Is Tipped As New CIO Veep

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Riffle, veteran labor organizer now working in the South, reportedly will succeed the late Allan S. Haywood as executive vice president of the CIO.

It was understood Riffle's selection by top CIO officials was at the behest of the CIO Steelworkers Union, which he helped organize. He now makes his headquarters in Atlanta.

The CIO is headed by Walter Reuther, president of the million-member Auto Workers Union.
